

morning, to give the Committee of Fifteen more time to work on the subject.

As to the effect of Mr. Gary's utterance, there are two separate lines of thought among the conferees. The labor group takes the view that Mr. Gary has weakened himself by his avowal that the conference should take "hands off" policy in respect to the steel strike.

They argue his statement has not changed sentiment in the public and labor blocs, and that it is so unimproving that if the conference should break up, the responsibility would fall upon the employers group. Tonight administration efforts to compel some action from the conference and to keep it from disintegrating were redoubled. Secretary Lane, chairman, declared that if the committee of fifteen is unable to come to an understanding upon collective bargaining, other machinery will be set in motion.

Lane Plans New Committee. His plan is to appoint a new committee composed only of employers and employees to thresh out the matter in the light of actual experience, and to create still another committee to work out a complete program to be considered jointly with collective bargaining.

This conference is not going to die aborning," Secretary Lane said. The possibility is also again reported that President Wilson, in case he is physically able, will send some word or message before the conference reaches the disruption stage.

Today members of the employers' group were being deluged with telegrams from manufacturers, large and small, urging them to stand firm against any declaration upon collective bargaining that does not clearly define the right of employers "to deal or not to deal" with men or groups of men who are not his employees.

Employers Ready to Give In. "The employers' bloc was said to be almost upon the verge of agreeing to a compromise on the basis that employers would meet representatives not workers in their plants provided they were selected by a majority of the workers."

The labor group had been against this, on the ground that regular officers of a union were the chosen representatives of workers belonging to it. But they were reported ready to accede to the "selected by a majority" proposal if it would prevent a disagreement.

Late tonight the employers' group was decked over the formulation of a plan designed to cover the point of "outside interference." Part of the group was for the proposed compromise that recognized the right of outsiders to serve as bargaining instruments so long as elected by a "majority of the workers" themselves, while the remainder maintained that the resolution should include "the right of employers to deal or not to deal" with men outside the plant.

BODIES OF DEAD IN MANY FIELDS BACK HOME SOON

Washington, D. C., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—The bodies of American soldiers, buried in Italy, Belgium, Germany, Great Britain, Luxembourg, and north Russia are to be brought home as soon as possible, the war department announced today, without waiting further on the action of the French government with respect to the army dead in France.

The policy of bringing home the bodies of the American dead was announced today, without waiting further on the action of the French government with respect to the army dead in France. ## Charges Women Soldiers with Leading Bad Lives

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The Hon. Violet Douglas-Pennant, daughter of Baron Penrhyn, testifying before a house of lords committee today in an inquiry into her dismissal as commandant of the Women's Royal Air Force service, declared that girls at the Hurst park camp had led most improper lives.

They were given night passes and taken to London in government cars and brought back, drunk sometimes, the following morning. The officer in command, she added, behaved most improperly with a woman officer.

NO ARBITRATION IN THE STEEL STRIKE, GARY'S ULTIMATUM

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board of the United States Steel corporation, read the following statement today before the industrial conference, called by President Wilson:

"I desire to make a brief statement in relation to the question under discussion, as well as others connected with this conference. Further explanation of any vote I may register probably will be unnecessary.

"Like other members of the conference, I recognize the public interest must always be considered as of first importance; that all private interests must be subordinated.

"I am heartily in accord with the desire of the president to firmly establish proper and satisfactory relations between all groups of citizens connected with industry, including, of course, what has been designated as capital and labor.

"I believe in conciliation, cooperation, and arbitration whenever practicable without sacrificing principle. "I am of the fixed opinion that the pending strike against the steel industry of this country should not be arbitrated or compromised nor any action taken by the conference which bears upon that subject.

"Also that there should be maintained in actual practice, without interruption, the open shop as I understand it—namely, that every man, whether he does or does not belong to a labor union, shall have the opportunity to engage in any line of legitimate employment on terms and conditions agreed upon between employer and employee.

"I am opposed to a policy or practice which unnecessarily limits production, which increases cost, deprives the worker from receiving the highest wage rates resulting from voluntary and reasonable effort, hinders promotion or advancement in accordance with merit, or otherwise interferes with the freedom of individual action.

"As unorganized labor, which embraces the vast majority of working people, has no special representation in this conference, I deem it appropriate to say that all labor should receive due consideration and that it is the obligation of employers at all times and in every respect to treat justly and liberally all employees, whether unorganized or organized."

LABOR ISSUES HOLDING STAGE, LEADER AVERS

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 20.—"Industrial problems forced to the front in a place of great prominence, nationally and internationally, than ever before in history, charge the convention of the Illinois State Federation of Labor with greater responsibility than at any previous meeting.

This was the declaration of Duncan McDonald, president, in an address before the federation convention which opened here this morning.

McDonald welcomed the labor delegates to the city. He said that the convention took up much of the convention time this morning. All resolutions are to be reported by 10 o'clock tonight to Victor A. Olander, secretary.

About 700 delegates were present at the opening of the convention.

Several Hurt in Fight at Plant in Milwaukee

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—Several men were injured in a riot at the Cudahy Brothers Packing company plant in Cudahy early tonight. Officials of the company said that strikers, angered at some of their former associates, who had returned to work, attacked them when they were leaving the plant.

THIS BIRD WOULD NOT TRY TO SAVE HIS WIFE'S HONOR

I. W. W. Counsel Tells the Senate His Crowd Backs Strike.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.] Washington, D. C., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—That the I. W. W. organization is behind the present steel strike, as also are the anarchist-syndicalists and the Russian union, a bolshevik organization of Russians in this country, was admitted today before the dazed and dumfounded senate committee on labor and education, by Jacob Margolis of Pittsburgh, general counsel in that district for the I. W. W.

Margolis said that in August last he had attended a convention of the Russian union in Youngstown, O., and at that convention had successfully urged the Russian bolsheviks, there assembled, to endorse the strike.

Subsequently, and following a meeting attended by William Z. Foster, secretary of the steel strike committee, he had told the I. W. W. representatives in the strike zone not to interfere in any way with the campaign of the strike committee.

Plot Against Nation Bared. Even more remarkable to his hearers was the Pittsburgh attorney's delineation of a partly successful attempt, covering the last two years, to fuse at Pittsburgh, for an unstated but vaguely hinted revolutionary purpose, the combined forces of the Industrial Workers of the World, bolsheviks, and Russian industrial workers, whose imagination, he acknowledged, had been caught by the "successes of Lenin and Trotsky in Russia."

Throughout Margolis' story ran Foster's name, to which Chairman Kenyon indicated a frequent reference by a cross-examination in which dictaphone records of telephone conversations, photographed copies of Margolis' correspondence, and similar matter played a large part.

Says Foster Loses Pep. Margolis said Foster used to be radical enough, but now he seems to have fallen under the taming influence of the A. F. of L.

"Foster is neither an anarchist nor a syndicalist," Margolis testified, somewhat dolefully. "He is only a true unionist. Foster was a borer from within. I believe in boring from within, but I believe that any worker who joins the A. F. of L. becomes a follower and loses his identity.

"The A. F. of L. is in a state of funk. Out of seventy strikes called recently, sixty-two have been unauthorized by the A. F. of L. This would indicate a general state of uneasiness and dissatisfaction on the part of the workers affiliated with federation unions."

DENY INJUNCTION TO LIFT BAN ON STRIKE MEETINGS

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—After hearing arguments on the petition for a preliminary injunction asked by the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Tin Workers to prevent Mayor Babcock and city officials from interfering with a meeting Oct. 22, John D. Shafter, in Common Pleas court this afternoon, refused to grant the injunction, set Wednesday morning as the time for hearing arguments.

The steel strike was reviewed by the national committee for organizing iron and steel workers at an extraordinary session which began here late today.

The Carnegie Steel company announced that its plants in the Pittsburgh district were operating fully 85 per cent of capacity, with the exception of the Duquesne mill, and it was on full time with a full force.

believe in nonresistance?" Mr. Kenyon asked.

"Yes," replied Margolis, "it is better to have the government taken over than have human lives sacrificed."

"If some one resorted to violence to steal the coat off your back what would you do?" asked Senator Jones, New Mexico.

"I would offer no resistance; I would try to persuade him not to take it."

"Even if he tried to take it from you forcibly?"

"Yes, I would let him take it."

Wouldn't defend wife's honor.

"And if some one invaded your home and attempted to assault your wife, what would you do?"

"I would try to persuade him not to do it."

"You would offer no resistance to save your wife from assault?"

"I would not."

Margolis has a wife and two children in Pittsburgh. He owns a few thousand dollars' worth of bank stock, he told the committee, and carried enough life insurance to protect his family in case of disaster to himself.

Margolis said he is not a member of the I. W. W., as only a worker could belong to the organization, but that he acted as its attorney and sympathized with its aims and purposes.

The Plumb plan for the operation of railroads by the employees and their purchase by the government, he said, was the "first step towards the new future," while the Lenin-Trotsky government in Russia, he claimed, was the "most forward looking creation on the globe, far better than anything in America."

STRIKERS FLOCK BACK TO MILLS; REDS REJECTED

Unions Are "Nervous" at News of Labor Importation.

It was commencement day in Gary yesterday—commencement day of a peculiar sort.

The vacation of the strikers appeared to have ended. The pickets had for the most part ceased to picket. Crowds of men, dinner pails in their hands, went slouching through the rain back to the mills.

Some looked like naughty boys caught in their naughtiness and made new order of things exists noty several weeks having complained of the long hours of duty.

Col. E. H. Humphreys, chief of staff to Maj. Gen. Wood, visited Gary yesterday and conferred with Col. Mape.

Make Raid on Hotel. The military officials made a raid on a Gary hotel and took the proprietor into custody with a young woman who gave her name as Anna O'Neill, her address as Dallas, Tex., and her age as 18 years.

She said she had been placed in the hotel by a man whom she named. The intelligence department officers had heard that women were being imported into Gary to prey upon the soldiers. This was the first of a number of raids that have been planned.

John F. Dacey, one of the few pickets on duty, was arrested by the military, charged with attempting to intimidate Negro workers.

"Mother," Jones, famed in many strikes, will arrive in Chicago tomorrow, to "back up" any striking steel workers who may be wavering. She is scheduled for talks in South Chicago, Gary, Hammond, Waukegan, and Joliet.

I. W. W. ACTS IN HAMMOND

Hammond, Ind., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—Evidence that the I. W. W. promoters, frightened out of Gary and East Chicago by the combined efforts of the military authorities and heads of labor organizations, have transferred their activities to Hammond, is shown by the large amount of literature which has been found in the city. Yesterday quantities of I. W. W. papers were scattered through the city, and many citizens found leaflets at their homes.

SEIZED AS A BEER RUNNER. Frank Fisher of Evanston was arrested Sunday afternoon on the Milwaukee road near Zion City. He had in his automobile 505 bottles believed to contain beer of 2.75 per cent alcohol. He gave bond of $2,000.

CHICAGO TO HAIL MERCIER, HEROIC CARDINAL, TODAY

Flower-Strewn Path to Greet Prelate; Huge Meeting Tonight.

Cardinal Mercier, Belgium's fighting prelate, will arrive in Chicago this morning for a two day visit in his tour of the United States.

He brings a message of gratitude from the people of Belgium and will receive many honors at the hands of Chicago church and municipal officials, educators, and private citizens, who have arranged an elaborate program for his entertainment.

Chicagoans will have their first opportunity of seeing the man who defied the German government during its occupation of Belgium when he rides north in Michigan avenue from the Illinois Central station to the residence of Archbishop Mundelein at North avenue and Lincoln park.

Marines as Honor Guard.

Marines wounded in France who are now convalescing at Great Lakes hospital will form a guard of honor.

Girls dressed in Belgian costume will scatter flowers in the path of the cardinal's automobile.

At the railroad station the cardinal will be greeted by Chicago dignitaries of the Roman Catholic church, the mayor's official welcome committee, and a citizens' committee.

The Chicago band will play "La Bravissime," Belgium's national air, as the cardinal leaves his private car for Archbishop Mundelein's residence, where he will stay while here.

At 10:30 o'clock solemn pontifical high mass will be celebrated at Holy Name cathedral by Bishop McGavick.
There will be an address of welcome by Archbishop Mundelein and a response by Cardinal Mercier.

Both the University of Chicago and Loyola university will honor Cardinal Mercier with the degree of doctor of law. Loyola will confer the honor this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in a ceremony on the campus. The University of Chicago award will be made tomorrow afternoon.

Gives Address Tonight.

Cardinal Mercier will speak his message to the people of Chicago tonight at the Auditorium. The doors will be opened at 7 o'clock, and "first come will be first served."

Only a few boxes and first floor seats have been reserved. The money received from these will defray all expenses in connection with the meeting.

Traffic in Congress street will be halted at 7 o'clock. Chief Garrihy announced yesterday in anticipation of a large crowd. The chief also announced adequate police protection will be afforded the cardinal.

Meets Belgians Tomorrow.
Col. H. M. Byllesby is chairman of the mayor's committee to welcome the cardinal. Other members are D. F.
Killy, James Patten, Edward Hines,
Robert J. Graf, Clifford Arrick, and Edward I. Cuddehe. Lieut. Gov. Oglesby will represent Gov. Lowden at tonight's meeting.

In addition to the ceremonies at the Auditorium and Loyola and Chicago universities, the cardinal is scheduled to greet the Belgians of Chicago tomorrow night at St. John Borromeus church, Logan and Maplewood boulevards.

He will leave Chicago Thursday morning for St. Louis, stopping at Moline en route.

Dispatches from Detroit, where the cardinal stopped yesterday, indicated the strain of travel is beginning to tell on the aged churchman. Upon hearing this the members of the Chicago welcoming committee said his program here will be shortened in accordance with any desires he may express.

How He Defied Germans.
Cardinal Mercier gained international prominence during 1914, when he instructed Belgians that "the regulations of the Germans need not be respected if they lack the liberty of Christian conscience or the dignity of Belgian patriotism."

Later he told representatives of the German government: "We keep closed to your encroachments the sacred domains of our conscience, the last refuge of the oppressed."

His Christmas pastoral letter of 1917 urged the Belgian people to disregard the authority of the German government. It was this letter that caused reports of his arrest, but subsequently it was shown 15,000 copies of this letter had been destroyed by the German military leaders.

GOUGHAM'S MOST BEAUTEOUS—THREE PRIZE WINNERS

Miss Alice Louise Secker
Miss Mary O'Brien
Miss Hazel Kemp

WORKING GIRLS PRIZE WINNERS IN BEAUTY TEST

News of New York Gives $10,000 to the Victor.

New York, Oct. 20.—[Special.]—Miss Alice Louise Secker is the winner of the first prize, $10,000, offered by the New York Illustrated News for the most beautiful girl in Greater New York.

The second prize of $2,500 goes to Miss Hazel Kemp, and the third of $1,000 to Miss Mary O'Brien. Certified checks were presented to the winners this afternoon at a reception held on the roof of the Hotel Astor.

Honorable mention was given by the three judges, Dr. W. Griffith, George M.
Cohan, and Harrison Fisher, to Miss Edna Nichols, Miss Elsie Gay, and Miss Marie Hazrick, whose photographs were considered worthy of praise, although they did not win prizes.

All Three Working Girls.
The contest was judged on the merits of the photographs alone, the judges going over all of the 7,500 likenesses submitted before arriving at a decision.
It is interesting to note that all three prize winners are working girls. Miss Secker was employed in the factory of the Nemo Corset company, Miss Yopp in the Waldorf-Astoria hotel, and Miss O'Brien by Gimbel Bros.

Asked what she was going to do with her prize, Miss Secker stated she planned to take a rest for a week at least.

"I have been working ever since I was 13 years old, and feel as if I could enjoy a little vacation now."

Miss Yopp and Miss O'Brien both declared they were going to give the money to their mothers.

One a Former Chicagoan.
Miss Yopp lives at 620 West One Hundred and Fifteenth street. She was born in Paducah, Ky., in 1893.
She remembers nothing of the town of her birth, for her parents moved to Chicago when she was 2 years old.
She was educated in St. Xavier convent, Chicago. Two years ago the family moved to New York.

Miss Secker and Miss O'Brien are natives of New York.

The winners are unanimous in their declaration that they sent their photographs into the News contest largely because of the insistence of their

ONLY 2 CLASSES, POOR AND RICH, GERMANY'S FATE

BY PARKE BROWN.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
(By Special Cable.)

BERLIN, via Copenhagen, Oct. 20.—
Addressing a large audience last night, the Rev. Gottfried Traub, member of the managing committee of the Nationalist party, declared Germany's class prejudice problem would be solved in a short time—that soon there would be only two classes—those with money and those without.

"Within half a year, or at most a year, there will no longer be any middle class," he asserted. "It will all be poor, and that is what the government now in power wants."

Dr. Traub also declared that the carrying out of the Socialists' legislative program would mean the killing of agriculture, which he called the "only branch of activity having any vital strength left in Germany."

A little roster hue on the situation may be obtained from Director Ceusch of the National Savings bank, who said reports from 127 of these banks, which correspond to the postal savings banks in America, show a good increase in deposits. The total savings accounts show nearly 9,000,000 marks, and the accounts are growing much more rapidly now than during the war.

GERMANS CALL MEETING TO AID RECONCILIATION

BERLIN, via Copenhagen, Oct. 20.—
With the avowed purpose of international reconciliation, the so-called Peace League of War Veterans proposes to issue a call to all participants in the war to join the movement. So far as known here, all the members are Germans, but the claim is made that the league was formed in Geneva by French and German fascists in 1918.

ARBITER CHOSEN BY SEC'Y WILSON SPLITS STRIKERS

One Faction Bolts Peace Meeting Because He's Present.

New York, Oct. 20.—[Special.]—Efforts of the special conciliation commission, meeting in the city hall, with Mayor Hylan as chairman, to bring about a settlement of the longshoremen's strike, resulted tonight in a split. John F. Riley, strike chairman, and his followers, numbering about half of the delegation of 300 longshoremen, withdrew because of the presence of F. Paul Vaccarelli, appointed by Secretary of Labor Wilson as a member of the commission. They protested his appointment. The faction that remained, headed by "Dick" Butler and Patrick Nicholas, the latter vice president of the Atlantic coast district, assured the commission that the rank and file of longshoremen were with them in their efforts.

Mayor to Address Meeting.
Mayor Hylan announced that after confering with the shipping interests today he decided it best to address a meeting of the longshoremen and state his views to the rank and file and that arrangements had been made for a meeting in Tammany Hall at 8 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The International Mercantile Marine, through an executive officer, announced this afternoon that work of unloading its ships would be started tomorrow morning, "under fire or not under fire, with union or nonunion labor."

Mayor Hylan said late in the afternoon that he was informed 3,000 longshoremen would return to work on the Chelsea piers tomorrow morning. Reports from Brooklyn indicated that several hundred men returned to work today.

Baker Rejects Hylan's Plan.
Secretary of War Baker declined to grant the request of Mayor Hylan that the troops not be landed here to do duty in connection with the strike until further negotiations, on the ground that the government work could not longer be held up. Maj. Gen. David C.
Shanks, commanding general of the port of embarkation, announced that the troops were brought here to do purely government work and not for the purpose of "overawing the strikers."

innocent. Then he proceeded to call the roll of the trade commission's investigators in Chicago.

"My information," he said, "is that Mr. Stuart Chase had general charge in Chicago of all the investigations of the meat packing industry."

"His office at Chicago, during the investigation of the meat packers, was in the Conway building, and at once it became the center of socialistic activities. He organized and afterward became the president of the Fabian club, a society founded for the express purpose of furthering the doctrines of socialism. About him in the federal trade commission headquarters were grouped such men as Victor Berger and Irvin St. John Tucker, both of whom have been indicted and convicted under the espionage act, and many other extreme Socialists."

"Pleaded for Objectors."

"He was active in securing the attendance of the employees of the federal trade commission at a meeting at the Coliseum in Chicago to which Victor Berger and other Socialists and radicals made inflammatory speeches. He signed and approved a pamphlet called 'What Happens in Military Prisons,' and also a 'Report of the Treatment of Conscientious Objectors at the Camp Funston Guardhouse.' Under his direction there were issued a series of publications called 'Fabian Tracts,' all of which breathe the spirit of sedition and intense opposition to existing institutions, both financial and governmental. He was also instrumental in organizing a meeting at a Chicago theater in January, 1918, at which Lincoln Steffens spoke. That radical had just returned from Russia and his address was delivered for the purpose of aiding in the recognition by our government of Lenin and Trotsky."

"Avowed Friend of Lenin."

The senator said that Samuel W. Tator, who, with Stuart Chase, had general charge of investigations, is well known in Socialistic circles. He charged he was an avowed admirer of Lenin and Trotsky. He was an active member of the Fabian club and was pronouncedly against the allies in the world war. Mr. Watson said Tator frequently had made the statement that all big business should be confiscated and owned by the government.

"My information," he added, "is that Mr. A. S. Kravitz, then and now in the employ of the federal trade commission, is a Russian from Riga; that he is an intellectual Socialist of the most radical type. Throughout the war he was intensely pro-German, as his many utterances testify. He has always expressed himself as an ardent admirer of Lenin and Trotsky and claims to be a personal friend of Lenin."

KNOWN AT BOOK STORE

Arthur Proctor, manager of the Clarion Book store, 304 North Clark street, where retail literature is for sale, last night recalled that Stuart Chase had been a frequent visitor there.

Mr. Proctor also claimed to remember that Martin D. Foster and Daniel A. Kemper, employees of the federal trade commission, had called on him from time to time.

Mr. Proctor identified Mr. Sorber as a member of the left wing of the Socialist party, the members of which have affiliated themselves with the Communist and Communist Labor parties.

Says Kemper Was Socialist.

Mr. Kemper he identified as a Socialist. Others mentioned by the senator as radical companions of the federal employees, were familiar to the book seller, including Raphael Mallen, Johan G. Ohsol, and Robert Buck.

"Mr. Chase used to drop in from time to time," he said. "He professed socialistic views, and was a member of the committee for the release of conscientious objectors. He was also one of the Fabian club, but I can hardly call that a radical organization."

Mallen a Communist.

"Among those who frequented the shop at the same time was Mr. Mallen, a member of the Communist Labor party, now in New York. He was under arrest for a time at Camp Grant as a conscientious objector."

"Mr. Buck is editor of the New Majority, a Chicago labor publication. But it's not radical, neither would I place in that category Basil L. Manly, to whom the senator also alludes. Mr. Manly was attached to the war labor board and was anti-socialistic."

Just Call Dr. Robertson

If the stubby chimney on your neighbor's home emits smoke and gas, which blow into your windows, write to Health Commissioner John Dill Robertson about it. He announced yesterday he will compel the extension of such stacks in conformity with the dictates of health.

On orders from Dr. Robertson the Del Prado hotel, 1400 East Fifty-ninth street, and the Globe laundry, 222 South Morgan street, were given twenty-four hours to abate their smoking chimneys or face a policeman with orders to rake their fires. Both are declared to be old offenders.

izens are responsible for the abundance of crime in the city."

"I know that a lot of you are surprised, but it is the truth," he continued. "There are too many civilian meddlers for the good of the force. Some of my men have gone wrong. But they are few. If civilians would keep their hands off there would be less crime. Some of my men are not doing their duty. These are the weaklings or the barnacles who will be dropped as speedily as possible."

No Use for Drunken Police.

"Scores of citizens have approached me in an attempt to intercede for policemen who have 'gone wrong.' 'Another chance' was what was requested. If their case was just, I was lenient. But the man who had deliberately failed to live up to his oath was dealt with accordingly."

"I have never transferred a man because he did his duty. I have turned down those who sought the transfer of men when I learned they were asked to be sent to other stations after they had made raids. If you want a man sent to the 'woods' because he is honestly doing his duty, don't come to Chief Garrity, but if he is drunk or fails in duty I will give you quick action."

The chief stated that the 50 per cent increase in crime over last year can be traced to the demobilization of the army. He said that in 1918 and 1917,

Remove Tan, Sunburn, Liver Spots and Other Skin Blemishes.

By Use of a Well-Known Toilet Preparation.

Some people cannot suffer the embarrassment of a dark, sallow, blotchy, pimply skin. If you want to clear your complexion and remove those skin blemishes which cause you embarrassment, you should use the Black and White Beauty treatment at bedtime, cleansing your face in the morning. Go to your drugist and ask him for a 25 cent package of Black and White Ointment and a jar or tube of pure, white vaseline. Black and White Soap is a splendid aid to the treatment. Literature and sample will be gladly supplied you on request. Write Black and White, Box 913, Memphis, Tenn.

before the draft law went into effect, the crime wave equaled that of the present. The drafting of hundreds of police characters into the army in 1918 was a godsend for the protection of the city, he said.

Scores Civilian Meddlers.

Judge John Stelk scored the "invisible government" that has been interfering with the progress of the police force. He referred indirectly to the "meddling of civilians."

"The politicians aren't to blame for defeating justice and disheartening the hard working policeman," he declared. "This evil can be traced to the alleged respectable business man and the churchgoer. Those are the ones, more than the politicians, who make up the invisible government."

"Cases are continued and continued until the policeman who makes the arrest and the individual who has signed the complaint lose their patience. Eventually the case is dropped when the witnesses refuse to appear. The judges are not to blame. In these instances the 'crooks' go forth to commit more crime."

"Housecleaning of Citizens."

Judge Stelk stated that it was a housecleaning of the citizens, and not of the police department, that was needed.

"The fear of God should be put in their hearts, just as I have put it in the hearts of the speeders in my court," he roared.

Judges Jarecki and Richardson, who are residents of Logan Square, lauded Capt. Harding's idea of the community gathering. They also pleaded for the cooperation of the citizens with the police of the precinct.

Other speakers were Attorney Joseph O'Donnell, Attorney Ben Short, and the Rev. Father O'Brien, pastor of St. Sylvester's Catholic church.

GIRLS! Try The Dictaphone— Learn How Helpful It Is!

No secretary or stenographer eager to advance in the business world should miss the opportunity to have a demonstration of The Dictaphone on her work.

The Dictaphone is the only way in which a girl can be sure of getting out each day's letters without interruption.

The Dictaphone's always-ready convenience enables her employer to clear up his mail hours earlier in the day, and thus she can usually finish her work easily before closing time.

You will admit that is far better than working after hours.

Tell your employer to phone or write for a 15-minute demonstration today.

CZECHS QUITTING SIBERIA; U. S. LOSES PRESTIGE

Lack of Policy and Japanese Hostility Add to Dangers.

BY FREDERICK SMITH.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(By Special Cable.)

PEKING, Oct. 19.—[Delayed.]—The recent attempt of the Kolchak government to arrest Gen. Gaidar at Vladivostok has stirred the anger of 4,000 Czechs, who have been protecting the allied representatives at Omak and guarding the western half of the railroad, which is essential to the Kolchak campaign.

Kolchak charged Gaidar with plotting a counter revolution, but the general's train at Vladivostok was guarded by Czech soldiers, who killed Gaidar as a traitor. The Czechs at Omak, hearing of Kolchak's attempt to arrest Gaidar, warned the supreme ruler that if he arrested Gaidar at Vladivostok the Czechs would arrest Kolchak at Omak.

Czechs Returning Home.
The Czechs, who have been the terror of the bolsheviks for two years, now are moving eastward, preparatory to returning to their Bohemian homes. The absence of adequate American and other allied forces in this movement will leave Siberia facing unexampled turmoil for even this distraught country.

It is feared the departure of the Czechs from western Siberia may encourage the Reds to increased boldness in their efforts to shatter the railroad, which is the only line of communications for the Kolchak army.

Cossacks Threaten Americans.

Meanwhile Semenov's Cossack command of 10,000, near China, stirring trouble by taking his forces into Manchuria, which is Chinese territory, Semenov evidently is working with the Japanese, and several anti-American charges are traceable to Semenov. The Chinese, supported by the allies, warned Semenov to evacuate Manchuria or be disarmed.

John S. Stevens, who has been in Peking, returned to Harbin yesterday, deeply concerned in the situation. Kalmikoff, another Cossack leader, publicly warns the American troops that he will punish them in summary military fashion unless they cease their aggressive conduct in guarding the railroad in their comparatively tiny sector.

See Only American Failure.

The lack of a definite American policy in Siberia leaves the American forces too small to accomplish the protection of the railroad and assist Kolchak at the front. The Cossacks and Japanese constantly are interfering and making the allied railroad control a farce. The departure of the Czechs is thus fraught with disastrous possibilities to Kolchak.

The opinion of the majority of leading Americans, civil and military, with whom I talked in 10,000 miles of travel to Omak and back, is that American participation has resulted in nothing but loss of time and expense and loss of American prestige on all sides.

The prospect is that Russia will fight to exhaustion and then the Germans on the west, Russia in the center, and the Japanese, who covet Siberia on the east of Bakal, will likely form an alliance that will give the world a job more serious than the old Prussian menace.

Japan is fighting for a prize richer than Shantung, but her Siberian operations are clouded by a suppression of facts everywhere. Apparently the Japanese believe the world is too busy with its own troubles to induce people to interfere with the imperialistic designs of the far east.

A. E. DE RICQUES DENIES PACKERS 'CONVERTED' HIM

A. E. De Ricques, whose correspondence with officials of the "Big Five" packing firms, together with a letter of recommendation written by J. Ogden Armour to banking interests, were made the subject recently of public statements by Isadore J. Kresel, chief of the federal prosecution aimed at the packers, has written to the government attorney denying any business connections with the packers and demanding a hearing before the grand jury.

The packers never owned any stock in our company," declared the Denver banker after federal attorneys had failed to call him as a witness before the first jury in September. "They do not at this time, nor do the directors of our company own any packing house stock."

"I was deliberately attacked in the public press and I intend to compel you either to give me an opportunity of presenting my side of this matter to the grand jury or to see it made public in some other way."

Mr. De Ricques explained at length the business transactions which made it appear he had been "converted" to the big packers' interests, showing the transactions were carried out purely as his own business affairs and not in connection with "Big Five" deals.

CARRANZA STEPS INTO 'BUTCHER' WEYLER'S SHOES

Washington, D. C., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—Because of the growth of the revolutionary movement in Mexico and the inability of the Carranzista military commanders to stop it, orders have been sent out from Mexico City to inaugurate in Chihuahua the reconquest system, used by Weyler in Cuba. It was learned in Mexico City today, which reported also the receipt of bitter protests from the northern part of the country.

Gen. Dignez, it is learned, has been ordered to direct the abandonment of the population of all ranches, small towns and cities of Chihuahua, Jimenez and Parral. The reason, it is explained, is that these inhabitants are pro-Villa and the government has been unable to prevent them from sending food, arms, and munitions to the revolutionary leader.

TAGGERS' WAR ON AS WOMEN TAG FOR CHILDREN

Garrity Refuses to Intervene; Blame Aldermen.

Chicago women seeking financial assistance for orphans and poor children revived the original tag day yesterday and with it, the original tag day troubles. An appeal to the chief of police marked the crux of the battle which ended at dusk when both sides retreated in good order to count the contents of the taggers' boxes, filled with copper, silver and gold coins.

The Chicago Children's Benefit League and the Protestant Women's Home for Children were the contending forces. At midnight returns from twenty-four of the forty-nine charities affiliated with the league showed $48,065.72 had been collected. The Protestant Women's Home for Children announced that $3,500 had been collected by its taggers.

Storm clouds loomed on the tag day horizon when the finance committee of the city council voted last Tuesday to permit the second named organization to place 100 taggers on the street. The league's officials protested, claiming that the tag day ordinance provides that their organization shall have the exclusive rights to the tagging privileges.

Forty-nine nurseries, asylums and kindred organizations are represented by the league, which is headed by Mrs. Charles E. Frankenthal, 6400 Calumet avenue. She appealed to Chief of Police Garrity when women appeared on the streets yesterday with tags representing the Protestant Women's Home. The chief adopted a "hands off" policy.

"Committee's Action Illegal." "The Protestant Women's Home is not a member of the league," Mrs. Frankenthal declared. "Therefore, they have no right to share in a day that is expressly set aside for the league by the city council's rules."

"The finance committee cannot change these rules without the vote of the council. We would not have opposed them today except for the fact that while each of our forty-nine organizations is permitted but 100 taggers, reports received indicate that the Protestant Women's Home has had many, many more than that working."

"They have attempted to join our league, but we cannot accept them because the investigation committee of the Association of Commerce has refused to approve their organization."

Wives of Aldermen. It was intimated at the league's headquarters yesterday in the Auditorium hotel that several of the leading members of the Protestant Women's Home are the wives of members of the council finance committee.

Ald. William R. Fetzer said that Mrs. Fetzer is a worker, but not an official of the organization. Mrs. Albert J. Fisher, wife of another member of the finance committee, said that she was familiar with the organization, but that she was not an official.

"I understand that the Association of Commerce has withdrawn any objections that it may have held several years ago and that the failure of the Protestant Women's Home to become affiliated with the league is just the result of misunderstanding among the women," said Mrs. Fisher.

Can You Improve this Plan?

Are You Awaiting Accidental Success?

If some one has not handed you a fortune, the only way to acquire one is to earn, save and invest money. Almost unbelievable results are continually accomplished through the simple process of planning a definite purpose in life and sticking to the plan.

Any fortune not a gift or inheritance has been the result of purpose and determination. The largest bank account originated with a thought—the thought deciding to start it. Success is rarely accidental.

Life insurance should be included in any definite scheme of purpose and progress. It provides for the health of existence a back-log of protection; an assurance life's uncertainties are self-guarded.

A highly commendable and successful plan—a combination of accumulation and protection, is to build up an investment fund in carefully selected bonds. With the income returns pay your life insurance premiums. This is an ideal, definite, profitable plan of purpose and progress.

Can you think of any better plan to build for yourself and at the same time provide for and protect those you hold dear?

HAMMOND GUN ORDER QUIZ NOW CENTERED HERE

The congressional investigation into why $25,000,000 was paid to the Standard Steel Car company of Hammond when the government received but 200 gun carriages on its army ordnance contract during the war, was brought home to Chicago yesterday with the arrival of the subcommittee probing war contract claims.

Representative William J. Graham of Toledo, accompanied by Representative Garrett of Tennessee and Jeffries of Omaha, opened the hearing in the assembly rooms of the Illinois Trust company, calling several army officers to give preliminary testimony.

Charles R. Miller, chief coast expert of the Chicago ordnance district, testified that the payment of the first $9,000 in question was made to cover losses to the car company in a period of nonproduction in which the company could have made industrial progress but for being tied up with government work and that he thought that particular payment was justified.

Concerning the total $25,000,000 paid by Uncle Sam to the company, he stated that but 200 carriages had been received, but added that hundreds of carriages were under construction when the armistice was signed.

Speeding automobile terrorists were given an object lesson in frightfulness yesterday when a few of their number—and they are legion, according to the docket sheets in Judge John Stelk's court—were confronted with a photographic copy of a front page of THE TRIBUNE, framed and ready for their inspection as it hung directly before their gaze on the jurist's bench.

The first person whom it started was fined $50 and costs for driving an automobile when he was intoxicated, and as his gaze met the picture, bearing a reproduction of a photograph of a child killed by a drunken autoist last week, he cringed as one facing a hangman's noose.

"Gaze on That Picture." "See that picture before you? Of course you see it. Don't allow your eyes to wander. Just give it another glance," said Judge Stelk to Charles W. Paulson, a printer, 5441 Ravenswood avenue, who was charged with reckless driving of his machine at North Ashland and Belmont avenues, Saturday night. He was prosecuted by Sgt. William McGurn and the remarks of the judge followed testimony brought out by James C. Dooley, assistant state's attorney, assigned to the court. Paulson insisted that he had partaken of near beer only, but the testimony outweighed his defense.

Picture to Remain in Court.

The picture, as reproduced from THE TRIBUNE, bears the caption: "Joyrid-ers Kill Three; Boose Driven Car Slays Girl; Women Drown; Victims of Chauffeur Barleycorn." One of the children in the picture was Johanna Meynhan, 3 years old, killed when at play in her yard at 3745 South Peoria street. The "frightfulness" car was occupied by Policeman Thomas Connors of the Englewood station and Earl Geyer, a broker, 43 West Sixty-seventh street. The other child is Dorothy Dedie, 6744 South Peoria street, who was slightly injured when her playmate was killed by the machine.

Every reckless driver who appeared before Judge Stelk yesterday was invited to view the picture, and it will hang in front of the defendants' rail as long as Judge Stelk continues to occupy the bench in the Automobile court. The picture made its appearance on the first day of court following the renovation of the courtroom, now in a sanitary condition.

EXPLOSIONS IN PETROGRAD AS FOES CLOSE INCapture of the Capital Is Expected at Every Hour.

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 20.—Tremendous explosions were heard from Petrograd by the attacking army last night, according to a special telegram to the Berlingske Tidende from Helsingfors.

Yudenitch's army had then reached a point eight and one-half miles from Petrograd, the towers of which could be seen from the anti-bolshevik lines during the day. The liberation of Petrograd was expected hourly.

Anti-bolshevik troops have penetrated to within five miles of Petrograd, according to a semi-official British statement, says a dispatch from Helsingfors to the Berlingske Tidende.

Petrograd Is Cut Off.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Petrograd is virtually isolated, the war office announces today, anti-bolshevik cavalry having cut the railroads leading from Petrograd to Vitebsk, Moscow, and Volodga. The Petrograd-Vitebsk road is cut at Virona and the Petrograd-Moscow railroad at Tosna. The line to Volodga is cut south of Lake Ladoga.

The war office announced this evening that the northwestern army under Gen. Yudenitch is within eight miles of Petrograd.

The war office further announces that Pskov, the important railway junction some 130 miles south of Petrograd, is under bombardment by the Estonian troops. Petrograd is reported to be preparing for a siege. Machine guns are posted to command the principal streets and supplies of food are being brought into the city.

Wipe Out Bolsheviki Force.

A bolshevik division which was being rushed to Petrograd was virtually wiped out at Krasnoe Selo, when Gen. Yudenitch took that place, according to war office advices.

The white flag was hoisted over the great fortress of Kronstadt on Friday, it was announced by the British war office today. No details had come to the war office, it was stated.

Admission that the forces of Gen. Yudenitch have penetrated beyond Gatchina is implicitly given in a bolshevik statement received here. Several combats are also reported to the west of Luga.

Drive Reds from Kieff.

The war office states that the troops of Gen. Denikin have driven the bolsheviks from Kieff, which they temporarily occupied last week.

"On the south Russian front, west of the Kheper river," the statement says, "Cossacks routed the bolshevik 15th division, taking 5,000 prisoners and twenty-seven guns. Volunteers are following up the advance east of Orel. Southwest of Orel an enemy column of 10,000 advanced to the attack against the Orel-Korsak road near Krom. This force was enveloped on both banks and half of it was surrounded and destroyed and the remainder put to flight toward."

"The bolsheviks temporarily occupied Kieff on the 15th, but volunteer reinforcements which were hastily brought up succeeded in clearing the whole of the city, except the west and northwest suburbs, where fighting was continuing on the 17th."

FEAR GERMAN TRICK

BY ARTHUR E. MANN.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[By Special Cable.]

RIGA, Oct. 19.—The prospect of Lithuanian troops being sent to the aid of Latvia is remote, and the most the Letts hope for is her neutrality in the struggle with the Germans under Gen. Bermond. Gen. Bermond has sent one of his commanders, Gen. Alfater, a Baltic German, to Lithuania with promises of benevolent attitude toward that country. The situation is further complicated by the Lithuanians' fear of the Poles, who justify their attitude by declaring that the present Lithuanian government is pro-German.

It is said the German representative at Kovno, the present capital of Lithuania, has a great influence on the government and that the German policy is to separate Lithuania from the Baltic group and create a pro-German corridor into Russia between Latvia and Poland.

CLOSING IN ON PETROGRAD

1—The troops of Gen. Yudenitch are now only eight and one-half miles from Petrograd. The towers of the city can be seen from the front line trenches.

2—Kronstadt is definitely reported to have fallen to the British. This opens the way to Petrograd by the sea.

3—The Estonians are availing themselves of the silence of the guns at Kronstadt and are advancing along the southern coast of the Gulf of Finland.

4—The bolsheviks are reported to be preparing Petrograd for a siege. Machine guns have been placed at strategic corners. Food is being brought into the city. Numerous explosions have been heard in the city.

5—A bolshevik division which attempted to stay the advance of the victorious Whites was virtually wiped out at Krasnoe Selo, it is reported.

6—All the railroads connecting Petrograd with Russia have been cut. A troop of White cavalry started from Gatchina, and swung in a great semicircle about the city, cutting all the railroads.

7—The railroad to Moscow was cut at Tosna.

8—The railroad to Volodga was cut south of Lake Ladoga. Any Red troops trying to relieve Petrograd must now detrain a day's march away and fight their way through the White lines.

BANKERS TOLD
COUNTRY FACES
BUILDING BOOM

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 20.—There is a retarded building development extending over practically all of the United States, which, when under way, will tax the capacity of existing mortgage machinery to the utmost, according to the report of the real estate securities committee at the convention of the Investment Bankers' association.

The report adds that a considerable portion of many of our cities, notably New York, will practically have to be rebuilt in the next twenty years.

A warning against radical speculation was sounded. Thousands of "salesmen" are canvassing the country, dispensing spurious stocks and bonds, the bankers asserted.

A wave of speculation, usually an aftermath of war, is spreading over the country, delegates declared, and the fraudulent brokers are taking advantage of this.

TELEPHONE WAGE RAISE SINCE 1915 OVER $4,000,000

Sunday's Increase Said to Add $1,750,000 to Pay Roll.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.
The new wage schedule of the Chicago Telephone company has increased yearly payments an estimated $4,000,000 since Jan. 1, 1915. The new schedule, effective last Sunday, will add about $1,750,000 from the treasury and previous raises totaled $2,250,000.

This, without considering the high price of materials, gives a vague idea of what the company is asking from the state public utility commission in a new phone rate schedule. It is certain they desire the equivalent of the increased costs.

Part of this they want in additional revenue and the remainder is to be obtained from the substitution of new methods in operation.

U. S. Control Short $1,800,000.
The year of federal control is said to have run the Chicago company $1,800,000 behind.

The increase, which was the result of negotiations between the representatives of the employees and officials of the company, appeared yesterday to be satisfactory except to seventy-five operators of the Franklin exchange. They quit work for a few minutes and car traffic was handled normally.

The girls will present their complaints through their representatives.

The company anticipates no trouble. E. H. Gary of the United States Steel corporation made a strong point that he had increased the average income of the company's employees 116 per cent since 1913.

104 Per Cent Increase.
The Chicago Telephone company has boosted the monthly salaries of their girls 104 per cent since 1913, according to official figures compiled yesterday by THE TRIBUNE. To be sure there is no comparison between the income of a steel worker and a telephone operator, but the percentage of increase in pay is comparable.

The pay roll of the traffic department has increased from $222,000 to $551,000 between June, 1918, and August of this year. That is 147 per cent, but the number of employees have increased 44 per cent in that period.

The following table, obtained from the offices of the company, shows the pay roll for the traffic department, the number of "hello" girls, and their average monthly income for designated months back to June, 1913, to August last, when the last previous raise in wages was granted:

Mo.	Yr.	Monthly pay roll.	No. of monthly employees.	Average salary.
June, 1913.		$222,870	5,948	$37.47
Dec., 1913.		249,257	6,389	39.01
Dec., 1914.		214,693	5,769	37.21
Dec., 1915.		266,439	6,547	40.70
Dec., 1916.		318,776	7,139	44.66
Dec., 1917.		380,005	7,829	48.54
Dec., 1918.		533,366	8,111	64.51
Aug., 1919.		551,000	7,965	69.15
Last increase, estimated at.....				76.56

The new average wage increase has been erroneously stated as 64 per cent according to the company.

THE REAL 'PORTIA'

Chicago Woman Admitted to Practice Before United States Supreme Court.

Mrs. Flora W. Seymour

The picture appearing in yesterday's TRIBUNE, entitled "Portia," and purported to be Mrs. P. W. Seymour, 5320 Kimbark avenue, was run in error; for which we "beg your pardon."

To Mrs. Seymour went the honor of being the only woman admitted to practice before the United States Supreme court, when it opened the fall term last Monday.

For the last four years Mrs. Seymour has been engaged in the practice of law in Chicago. She received her bachelor's degree at the Washington College of Law, in Washington, D. C., and her master's degree from Chicago Kent.

They say that the average will be between 10 and 15 per cent.

Claims Raise Is Equitable.
It was also stated by company of girls that the representation is incorrect that girls who had been with the company a short time had received twice as large an increase as girls who had been with the company longer periods. The company said they and the representatives of the employees made the adjustments as equitable as possible.

CAN BUY UP INDEPENDENTS.
Springfield, Ill., Oct. 20.—The state utilities commission entered an order today authorizing the Chicago Telephone company to purchase the telephone properties of the Independent Telephone and Telegraph company in a number of cities in northern Illinois.

The Central Union Telephone company has taken over the properties of the independent company at Springfield, Peoria, and Sterling. The commission suspended until March 20, 1920, proposed advances in toll service rates filed by the Central Union company.

Death Penalty for Placing Bombs in Mail, U. S. Plan

Washington, D. C., Oct. 20.—Deposit of bombs or other infernal machines in the mails would be made a capital offense under a bill by Senator King, Democrat, Utah, favorably reported today by the senate judiciary committee. The measure was introduced after May day bomb outrages.

IRISH DECLARE WALSH PROGRAM MEANS NOTHING

Spurn Proposal of Hearing Before an "English Court."

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]
Washington, D. C., Oct. 20.—[Special.]—Democratic leaders encountered a formidable obstacle in their efforts to pacify the Irish voters today when the senate received numerous strong protests from the various Irish societies against the Walsh resolution to take Ireland's case before the league of nations.

Senator Lodge, the Republican leader, presented a number of petitions today against the Walsh resolution. One of these was a letter from Daniel T. O'Connell, director of the Irish National Bureau.

England Defeated Hearing.
"Ireland was denied a hearing at Paris, though the United States senate by a vote of 60 to 1, adopted a resolution asking for a hearing," the letter said. "That resolution was stronger than the resolution now offered by the senator from Montana. The oppressor had no difficulty, by diplomatic wiles, in prevailing on the American delegates to ignore the resolution of the United States senate."

Not Sincere Desire to Aid.
"The offer at this time of a resolution asking for a hearing after the court has been packed and the oppressor nation has the United States entangled in an alliance which compels the United States to abide by the resolution of the packed court cannot be viewed by those authorized to speak for the 20,000,000 Americans of Irish blood as an act springing from a sincere desire to aid Ireland."

"Rather must it be viewed as an instance of 'drawing the red herring across the trail' and an attempt to divide forces which unitedly are striving to save America as well as Ireland."

At 8 o'clock this morning imposing military forces marched to the Mansion house, which was occupied. Hotchkiss guns were placed in positions and the steel helmets of British soldiers were to be seen at every window and at points of vantage on the roofs. The men and their commander awaited the arrival of the Sinn Fein delegates, well prepared to resist any defiance of the British martial law. No one appeared and the soldiers are still waiting for the enemy forces to attack their "entrenchments."

The government's challenge had only been declined. The convention already had been held. In the early hours of the morning Sinn Fein cyclists

SINN FEIN MEETS AT 1 A. M.; BALK BRITISH ORDER

12th Annual Convention Held as Machine Guns Wait in Dublin.

BY FLOYD GIBBONS.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[By Special Cable.]
[Copyright, 1919, by the Tribune Company.]

DUBLIN, Oct. 18, via Paris, Oct. 20.—Last night the suppression of all Sinn Fein organizations, including the headquarters, was proclaimed. The meeting of the twelfth annual convention, which was to have been held at the Mansion house today, was prohibited. Notices to this effect were served on the lord mayor and Sinn Fein leaders.

At 8 o'clock this morning imposing military forces marched to the Mansion house, which was occupied. Hotchkiss guns were placed in positions and the steel helmets of British soldiers were to be seen at every window and at points of vantage on the roofs. The men and their commander awaited the arrival of the Sinn Fein delegates, well prepared to resist any defiance of the British martial law. No one appeared and the soldiers are still waiting for the enemy forces to attack their "entrenchments."

The government's challenge had only been declined. The convention already had been held. In the early hours of the morning Sinn Fein cyclists scouts had carried orders to the gates in friendly houses throughout the city.

Convene at 1 A. M.
About 1 o'clock 500 representatives were gathered in a commodious building not half a mile from Dublin castle. Arthur Griffith addressed the delegates, but the business of the convention was transacted while the forces of occupation slumbered. Two hours later the hundreds of delegates poured out into the streets and dispersed to their respective beds.

At the Sinn Fein headquarters in Harcourt street this evening the building well known to thousands of American visitors seeking information about Ireland was a scene of animation. The republic's staff were still in occupation.

Invaders Prove Brief.
They were laughing at an incident which had occurred an hour earlier. Three companies of soldiers had been solemnly marched up and the staff prepared for compulsory evacuation. But the troops halted at the door, occupying the street for several hundred yards. Apparently further instructions were needed. When these came half an hour later the tomnies with their machine guns marched off with equal solemnity.

Armored cars, with wicked looking noses of their guns projecting, are patrolling Dublin streets tonight.

There is no denying that women know style when they see it. The fact that most women are aware of "what's what"—makes each of them eager to possess apparel that radiates style-distinction.

Most women know, too, how important is footwear to the final effect of ultra-fashionable attire. Smart boots and slippers certainly enact a leading role in the general scheme of style.

O-G shoes have become nationally famous for their ideal adaptation to the truly smart costume. O-G shoes have an inimitable knack of appropriately and fashionably completing the costume of discriminative women. O-G shoes have gained the favor of these women who know style—only through the ability of O-G shoes to accurately portray style.

Wherever fashion gathers—wherever there is want for style and quality, you will find—

Dr. Lyon's Advocates the Use of Drugs for the Teeth Only When—

Your dentist or doctor has prescribed them. It is believed that wholesale prescription of drugs, or chemicals, in a dentifrice, without study of an individual's need, is unsafe. It makes possible the misapplication of drugs—possible the irritation or injury of mouth, throat and nose membranes.

Dr. Lyon's contains no drugs, but cleans the teeth thoroughly and safely, as it has done for over fifty years. That's why it becomes increasingly popular each year with refined, thinking people.

SIGNS OF CRIME SUPPRESSION.

We think it is quite possible to detect a noticeable improvement in the attitude towards crime in Chicago. There is a tendency in some recent activities toward a mood for the suppression of widespread and unhampered violence which, we think, shows a disposition to support this Tribune's appeal for a general and painstaking campaign in behalf of public safety.

The hanging of the stranger Fitzgerald cannot fail to have its effect upon all those who but the deterring suggestion of appalling punishment would little hesitate to duplicate his crime against a child. Murderers have got to know that the penalty for murder is swift and certain execution. When we assure murderers that the law is inoperative, we shall not only see a decrease in the number of murders but in the number of crimes incident to and provocative of murder.

The hanging of Fitzgerald has been followed by the conviction of another murderer and his sentence to the gallows. The current tendency of the courts to show mercy to the victims of murder instead of to the criminals is one that cannot fail to correct some prevailing and mistaken impressions among the gaudy gentry, no matter how strongly they may consider themselves politically entrenched.

We may always have examples of tedious sentimentalism, but if we can hope for a majority of dispassionate judgments the movement for a better morale will gain impetus.

The good citizens of Chicago will praise the efforts of the state's attorney's office in prosecuting vigorously and in striving for verdicts severe in proportion to the iniquity of the offenses. And Chief Justice Crowe of the Criminal court is to be commended for sternly insisting upon the right of society to protect itself against the shocking brutality of the murderers, the rapists, and the robbers.

No one is going to be ingenious enough to imagine that crime, as deeply rooted and fortified as it is in Chicago, is to be dislodged and put to rout in a week. Quite on the contrary, it is going to be a long battle and full of annoyances and disappointments. But if it were not bristling with irritations it would be no fight, which is the principle recognized fully by Henry Barrett Chamberlin and his fellow workers of the Chicago crime commission.

Mr. Chamberlin and Messrs. Steffen, Maypole, and Guernsey and their colleagues of the city council realize that an occasional citizen robbed might be accounted the normal hazard of metropolitan existence; but when the record of murders and robberies mounts into the hundreds there is a spirit of anger and resentment aroused which will not be denied. The countless victims will pool their resources and insist upon the protection which, were it not for political intrigue, they should always enjoy.

Chicago wants more citizens like those of Chamberlin's commission to support more officials like Maypole, Guernsey, and Steffen, more judgments like that given by Judge Crowe, more prosecutors like those of O'Brien and McGarry who have shown themselves, and more policemen like Lieut. How and Detective Sergeant Powers.

Real strength lies in the people. It must be aroused by the great moral agencies, the churches, the reform organizations—every advocate of clean politics—to demand officials who will not barter the public safety for personal advantage.

The mood against crime shows signs of consolidation. Increasing resolution is required.

W. W. ASTOR.

W. W. Astor is dead but the inherent fault of his life cannot be escaped. Men of his character may change their national allegiance. They may do it from principle or of necessity. We have welcomed Europeans who came here because American ideals were their ideals or because American opportunities offered them relief from unbearable conditions at home.

The case of Astor was one which defied defense or extension. All he had was American in his origin. If noblesse oblige had the faintest claim upon Astor's comprehension he would have known that it was the obligation of just such men so wonderfully endowed by the resources of the nation to take part in the nation's struggles, advance its goals, work for its security, and return what could be returned for benefits received.

Astor's conversion to English citizenship had worthy motives. What attracted him to England was a solid attraction. He wanted the soundings of a caste system to which he could bring nothing noble and from which he could expect nothing decent.

To achieve this false aristocracy he sacrificed any pretense he might have made of aristocracy. His gesture of contempt for the land which had made him able to buy an English peerage was as little as it was exasperating.

W. W. Astor exasperated American sentiment and opinion chiefly because he and his acts indicated a serious fault in American life. We hated to admit that we could produce such Americanism, such complete lack of Americanism, rather.

Astor convinced us that nobility could become a disease. He threw away his birthright, American citizenship, for a scurvy place in English nobility, and he obtained that nobility by use of funds which America produced for him without his effort.

We think we have extricated most of the nobility which was a conspicuous Atlantic seaboard characteristic in the '80's and '90's. It was contaminating families from whom the United States had the right to expect the most because to them it had given the most. It still contaminates but to less extent.

Astor was ashamed of the country which made him everything he was. The nation which resents the fact he ever was an American citizen cannot without hypocrisy say a good word for him, dead or alive. His death cannot erase the facts of his life. The nation cannot contemplate complacently such a failure of every process in nationalization which ought to be inspiring.

COL. FOREMAN AND THE LEGION.

In electing, as its first commander, Col. Milton J. Foreman, the Illinois chapter of the American Legion has made an excellent choice. Col. Foreman has earned this high honor by years of service in the national defense, including service at the head of his regiment, the 123rd field artillery, A. E. F., which acquitted itself with credit in some of the hardest fighting of the American phase of the war.

Col. Foreman also has a record of public service as citizen and for several years as one of the leaders in the council.

From the Legion's point of view Col. Foreman has what its commander, at this time especially, ought to have, experience in organization and the handling of men, enthusiasm and energy. This is the constructive force of the Legion's existence. Membership must be sought and held, extremists and impracticals checked, wise policies evolved and furthered, interest in the Legion, esprit de corps, stimulated. Col. Foreman's experience and energetic character will produce these results.

We congratulate both him and the Illinois chapter on his selection and look forward to results of great benefit not only to the veterans but to the state of Illinois, which expects the Legion to be a bulwark of stalwart Americanism.

RUNNING AROUND IN CIRCLES.

The opponents of the Republican reservations run in circles around a futility. They object to the reservations on the ground that their provisions already are in the covenant. They object to them because if adopted they will destroy the league.

If what is intended is it is bound to destroy it, then the senate is wasting time. A thing seldom is not worthy of consideration and ought to have none from the senate. If every American requirement is provided for in the covenant there can be no objection to such a wording of these provisions as will satisfy apprehensive Americans that American purposes are really served.

If it is the intent to serve the United States, the language of the agreement which the United States signs can state that intent. Nothing more than this is asked by the reservationists.

Their opponents are not candid and they are not intellectually honest. If the Monroe doctrine is protected the wording of the protective clause cannot be too definite. If that is the purpose why not completely serve it? If it is the intent to preserve the constitutional rights and powers of congress why not have the preserving language without an ambiguity? If we intend to reserve unquestioned control over domestic matters why not have that reservation unmistakable?

The Johnson amendment for equality of voting strength in the assembly is another matter. That is clearly an amendment. It will require the consent of the other nations in the league. The reservations do not require that consent. The United States says upon what terms it will enter the league. It will be accepted.

If the weak Americans in the senate only knew it the United States would be accepted upon the terms of the Johnson amendment. It will be accepted upon any terms it could possibly lay down. The prospects of the Johnson amendment are reported as dubious. Weak Americanism is prevailing where Americanism ought to be strongest. If the senate submits the United States to the inequity and injustice of such a voting scheme it will have done the United States an injury which there will be a continuing fight to remedy and which in time will be remedied.

RESPECT AMERICAN RIGHTS.

American sentiment will be strongly in sympathy with the protest of the steel strikers' committee in Pittsburgh against the police authorities' refusal to permit a meeting in a hall in that city. If the constitutional right of free speech is being unlawfully denied anywhere within the boundaries of the United States it is the concern of every citizen, whatever his opinion of the steel strike may be.

The rights of free speech and free assembly are essential to our liberty and to our progress and for that reason were declared in the fundamental law of the republic. They are not, as radicals seem to think, without limitations, and in times of public danger they may be suspended. But the reason for suspension even for restriction should be clearly founded on considerations of public safety, and no partisan or personal interest should ever be permitted to infringe upon these rights for private ends.

It is being asserted by the strike leaders in Pennsylvania that free speech and free assembly are being denied the strikers. This charge usually accompanies great strikes, but they cover different phenomena. Picketing may become nothing better than assault and battery and assembly nothing better than the organization of mobs for intimidation or destruction. In such cases the right of free assembly cannot be pleaded to justify riot and disorder.

But striking employees have a right peacefully to assemble to express their opinions and to voice their grievances, and we ought to insist upon the strict observation by the authorities of these constitutional rights. The calling of meetings in halls, except where conditions are so critical as to justify virtually a declaration of martial law, is under the constitutional guaranty and should not be denied. Certain regulations and formalities may be imposed, such as rules for applying to a certain official for a permit, or such as fire and panic and health restrictions; but these must be enforced in good faith. The requirement of a permit, for example, does not vest in any official a discretion to abrogate a constitutional right.

We trust the senate committee investigation will expose the truth of the charges made by the strike leaders in Pennsylvania, and hope they are in the main untrue. But if they are true, if to any general or important extent constitutional rights have been denied or unlawfully infringed, we hope the guilty officials will be punished and removed. We realize the viciousness of some elements in the strike, but the way to defeat them is not to match lawlessness with lawlessness.

CONAN DOYLE appears to have boiled spiritism as the tiger bolted the lady, but, instead of smiling as they return from the ride, he is annoyed because not everybody agrees with him. If Sherlock Holmes could have five minutes of conversation with Mr. Doyle he might point out that what is one man's fact is another man's fiction, and that there is a difference between a verified fact and an interpretation of a fact unverified. "My dear chap," we conceive Holmes as saying, "I ask you for a verified fact, and you offer me your interpretation of a fact of your own discovery. Will you pass the tobacco?"

The Little Precious: Sir: Old Bada Carter, whose conception of the ultimate in domestic bliss is a burro and a skillet in the depths of Topanga Canyon, was caught unaware by a dog and obliged to kiss a moist infant. Later, describing his sensation, he said it was "just like kissing a puffed egg."

WE are not sure that we approve the discovery by Dr. Voronoff, that old gentlemen may have restored to them the pristine vigor of twenty-one or thereabouts. One of the consolations of growing old is to be emancipated from the wings and arrows of pristine vigor. The spectacle of old gentlemen prancing around with one foot in the grave is not an entirely happy one.

CHILD PHYSIQUE AND DISEASE.

FOR a year and a half we have been engaged in a weighing and measuring campaign among school children. This campaign has interested many people. For the first time many people are weighing and measuring their children, and on that basis are judging of their well being. In some instances changing the diet, feeding no tea, coffee and candy, but pure milk, butter and bread, having them exercise in the earlier and dressing them more sensibly.

Now comes Prof. F. Frassetto of Bologna, Italy, who tells the conference on child welfare that simple measurement of height is not enough. He thinks that many of those who have been weighing and measuring for a year and a half are ready for the next step. He says that the height is made up of length of leg, of trunk, of neck and size of head.

Persons are subject to certain diseases if they belong to a certain bodily type and to other diseases if they belong to another type. Furthermore, if a physical type to which a child belongs is determined early there is some chance that by exercising the type can be changed. Of this there seems small chance, however. The type of the body, the proportion of trunk length to leg length, the length of neck—all such considerations are the result of the growth impulse, which impulse is inherited.

The second suggestion of Prof. Frassetto is better. It is that by recognizing the weaknesses which go with a certain type they can be guarded against. In one classification there is a heavy physique with predisposition to apoplexy. Persons of this type are heavy, the height is less than the stretch of the arms, limbs short in relation to trunk, upper limbs longer than lower, neck short and large, stomach larger than chest. Such people are not agile. They lead sedentary lives. They are subject to obesity, diabetes, gout, kidney stones, glandular tumors, prostatic enlargement. Children can be recognized as of this type very early. They should be encouraged in out of door play and trained not to overeat, especially of sweets and starchy foods.

The members of a second group have small bodies, their height is greater than the stretch of their arms, shoulders droop, chest caves in, limbs long in relation to trunk, long legs. Adam's apple very prominent, head small, neck long, infections very poorly. They are subject to tubercular infections, many of them having consumption and other glandular tuberculosis. As children they teethe slowly and are subject to rickets; as they get older they are subject to scrofula and bronchitis. The children of this type should be guarded against.

THE FRIEND OF THE SOLDIER.

The Friend of the Soldier will cooperate with the war risk insurance bureau of the treasury department, 1307 Stock Exchange building, Chicago, and with the committee of the Chicago Bar association on legal assistance to soldiers and sailors, 65 West Monroe street. Address inquiries to Friend of the Soldier, "Chicago Tribune." Answers to as many as possible will be published in this department. ## THE AMERICAN LEGION.

Offices for the headquarters of Cook and Lake counties, 210 Maliers building, Chicago, Ill. Illinois state headquarters, 120 West Adams street, Chicago, Ill. Chicago is making a record for itself in the drive for membership in the American Legion. Out of the 106 posts established in Cook and Lake counties, 103 of them are in Chicago. Each post is composed of men from the army, navy, and marine corps who served in the late war. The American Legion wants all eligible for membership to know of the purpose and activities of the organization, and have compiled interesting booklets and sent them to the legion headquarters and general information about it. These may be had by sending a stamped, addressed envelope to the Friend of the Soldier, "Chicago Tribune."

On Thursday, the issue of THE TRIBUNE will be an application blank for membership in the American Legion. Those who are thinking of joining should clip the blank, fill it out clearly, and send it to the proper address given above according to the place of residence. If there is not a post in your neighborhood, organize one. Full information as to how to proceed will be furnished by the legion headquarters upon request.

Watch for Thursday's TRIBUNE and get your application to take effect immediately, send a check for $2 to cover the yearly dues.

On Decoration day I was speaking with the man who gave the address on general conditions of our country. He said:

"The greatest menace to our national life is the labor union. I did not see just how that could be; but these instances cited in your columns, with other things I have seen and heard, begin to let in the light."

"All wealth is labor and nothing else; when Murphy painted his own job he stole the laboring man's wealth," says one. The attempted reasoning in this reminds one of what Dr. O. W. Holmes spoke of—a little man with a big idea.

Also of the Red ruin in Russia and other places where little men have by force of numbers and arms ruled. I know that our nation was born of revolution, but the government established is everlasting evidence that not hands, but brains and hearts, did the thinking and planning.

"Yours for unionism, honest pay, free labor, Americanism, six hours a day, and liberty."

This, with the stinging of Murphy, indicated as much understanding of Americanism and liberty as monkeys. We all know that there are sore troubles and much injustice. But the tyranny of labor unions will never cure the ills in human affairs any more than the oppression by the selfish rich.

Hundreds of thousands of noble men fought and fell that this nation should be the land of the free. And men who are determined to give little (six hours a day) and get much more (no less allowed to enslave us all under their rule of submit or be strangled).

L. V. N. MAY I inform him that Britain has but one vote in the council of the league of nations, the same as the United States. If Alaska and the Philippines had an independent government there would then be no objection to those governments being represented in the league assembly. Perhaps the opponents of the league would like to disfranchise the young commonwealths of Canada and Australia. I had the pleasure of residing in Liverpool, England, for fourteen months and fall to see that I have any more freedom here in Chicago. If as much, than I had in dear old Bighty.

A. R. S. BOOSTING FOR BRIGHTY. Chicago, Oct. 17.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—After reading "Outing the Hyphen" by H. R. I doubt very much his statement that he was born in England, as anyone born there, regardless of how long he had been a citizen of the United States, would show more intelligence than to state that England has six votes in the league of nations. Furthermore, he would use the word Britain and not England.

May I inform him that Britain has but one vote in the council of the league of nations, the same as the United States. If Alaska and the Philippines had an independent government there would then be no objection to those governments being represented in the league assembly. Perhaps the opponents of the league would like to disfranchise the young commonwealths of Canada and Australia. I had the pleasure of residing in Liverpool, England, for fourteen months and fall to see that I have any more freedom here in Chicago. If as much, than I had in dear old Bighty.

LODGE PROGRAM ON PEACE TREATY WILL BE CARRIED?

Threat of Hitchcock to Get Deadlock Is Hard Hit.

BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.
Washington, D. C., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—Victory for the Lodge reservation in the treaty fight was secured today when mild reservationists let it be known they would not support any effort to resuscitate the treaty if the administration forces carry out their threat to kill it rather than accept drastic reservations. The "mild reservation" senators sent word to the administration leader, Hitchcock, that the "deadlock" threat of the administration forces is minimized, according to opposition senators.

Hitchcock's Threat Falls.
Senator Hitchcock recently sent word to President Wilson, through Secretary Tumulty, that forty Democratic senators would stand together against any attempt to ratify the treaty with the Lodge reservations attached. They would vote to reject the whole document, he said, then move to reconsider, bring the treaty again before the senate, and keep it in a deadlock until the opposition yielded.

This threat was based on the belief that the mild reservation senators would support him in all his motions to reconsider. In the meantime, however, the mild reservationists have ceased to be "mild" and have pledged their support to the Lodge reservations. They now insist that these reservations must go into the treaty.

"Fault Lies with Democrats," Senator Lodge, the Republican leader, summed up the new turn of events in this language: "If the treaty is killed the body will be on the Democratic doorstep. They will have to emblazon the body and bury it."

The senate today completed the task of formally reading the peace treaty. The Johnson amendment to give the league as many votes in the senate as the British empire is before the end of the week. The amendment, it is conceded, will be defeated by an extremely narrow margin.

The foreign relations committee will meet on Wednesday to make the additions to the reservation program made necessary by the defeat of the textual amendments. As many as fourteen reservations may be necessary to protect American interests. Among the new reservations will be one to express the senate's disapproval of the Shantung settlement.

TARGETED, FRATERNIZED, ORDERED OUT.
Hamilton, O., Oct. 20.—Following his experience early yesterday of being chased, taken to a woods north of the city, and then treated to a coat of tar and feathers, John E. Steiger, local socialist leader, today received a letter advising him to leave the city in ten days on pain of being more severely treated.

CAPT. DONALDSON IS SECOND IN AIR RACE AT MINEOLA

Kiel and Queens, Trying for Third Place, in Mishaps in West.

Mineola, N. Y., Oct. 20.—With the arrival today of Capt. J. O. Donaldson on the second lap of his flight in the army air race, finishing second to Lieut. R. W. Maynard, who completed the 5,402 mile voyage Saturday, Capt. Lowell Smith tonight stood the best chance of finishing third in the contest. Capt. Smith reached Reno, Nev., this evening after flying from Cheyenne, Wyo., and had only 187 miles to go to San Francisco.

Lieut. Earl Manzelman, eastward bound, reached Cleveland tonight with 503 miles separating him from Mineola. Pearson at Rock Island.

Capt. Alex Pearson, delayed at North Platte, Neb., since Friday on account of a broken motor, got away today and reached Rock Island, Ill., 965 miles from New York.

Lieut. H. E. Queens, leaving Cheyenne with Capt. Smith this morning, burned out part of his engine and at Tipton, Wyo., had to give up the contest when only 809 miles from the finish.

Lieut. Col. Reynolds was the only one of twenty-nine who completed the first crossing to start the return trip today, and it was uncertain tonight how many of the fourteen remaining contestants at San Francisco would attempt the round trip. Lieut. Paul Richter, last of the eastbound flyers to reach New York on the first crossing, today decided not to make the return journey.

No Cash Prizes for Winners.
No cash prizes will be given to the victors; they will receive trophies. Winners of first places will receive similar trophies, as will winners of second places.

Those who contributed to the trophy fund are Col. E. A. Deeds, Henry Ford, Charles A. Comiskey, and several airplane manufacturers.

A luncheon in honor of Lieut. Maynard will be given Wednesday at the American Flying club.

No business too large or too small—Rand visible control shows the facts at a glance

Franklin Simon & Co., N. Y., is one of the many Big Stores that have found RAND Systems make for greater efficiency in their Credit Departments.

How Visible Records Speed Service and Cut Overhead

ONE glance—and all your facts are before you. The RAND visible card system of office equipment cuts down time and effort spent in hunting over records. It lets you move quickly and certainly for bigger business with less overhead.

In Credit Departments—it permits prompter service to the waiting customer and saves labor, worry and losses.

In Sales Promotion Work—it gives the facts so readily that much more business can be obtained from the same prospect list.

In Stock, or Sales, or Production Work—it shows the facts so clearly and quickly that over-stocking, material shortages, etc., are easily avoided.

In Personnel Records—it gives an instant grasp on the detail of your labor problem.

The weight of the material used, the sturdy construction, the practicability of each device—in all these things RAND equipment excels.

Write the Home Office to show you how RAND can help your business by placing your card-records, complete, at your finger-tips.

CHADSEY'S CLAIM TO HEAD SCHOOLS IN COURT TODAY

Friends Point to the Loeb Case as Forecast of Decision.

Jacob M. Loeb, former president of the board of education, yesterday returned to his seat in the ranks at the first meeting of the reorganized board and started a determined fight to force the board to return Dr. Charles Chadsey as superintendent. Twice he voted against motions which would weaken his position in contending that Dr. Chadsey still is legally superintendent, and twice explained his reasons, despite opposition from the other members of the board.

The board, however, reflected Peter A. Mortenson superintendent, Mrs. A. Bither attorney, and Charles J. Forberg business manager.

Dr. Chadsey's application for reinstatement in the powers of his office today comes up for action before Judge Kitcham Scanlan, who decided that Mr. Loeb was legally entitled to a place on the school board and that appointment of the "Solid Six," as made last May, was illegal. It is pointed out by friends of the old board and of Dr. Chadsey that this promises well for the success of Dr. Chadsey's fight, inasmuch as there is a clear similarity between the positions of the two men.

Similar Situations.

Mr. Loeb was appointed for a five year term, as provided by the Otis law, in 1917. The mayor removed him in May and the court decided that he is entitled to serve out his statutory term. Dr. Chadsey was appointed superintendent of schools for four years from March 15 by the Loeb board, which Judge Scanlan decided last week to have been a legal board. He was removed by the "Solid Six" and a successor, Mr. Mortenson, appointed. It is logical to believe, friends of the Loeb board point out, that the court will decide that Dr. Chadsey also is entitled to serve out his statutory term, or at least that his election by a board—now found to have been in legal control at that time—constitutes a valid contract.

Reorganizing under Judge Scanlan's decision of last week, the board first elected the officers it has had since May and then proceeded to the adoption of rules. One provided a salary of $12,000 a year for the superintendent. That was Mr. Loeb's first chance.

"These rules are illegal and in defiance of state law," he shouted. He had to shout to make himself heard above the chorus of objections, points of order and howls of derision. "They provide a salary of $12,000 for a vacancy which does not exist—superintendent of schools. Mr. Chadsey still is superintendent at a salary of $12,000 a year."

But the shoutings and the pounding of the gavel drowned him out and Mr. Loeb had to sit down.

"Later, when the election of Mr. Mortenson as superintendent came before the board, Mr. Loeb voted against it, explaining again that there is no vacancy, that Mr. Chadsey still is superintendent, that the court would decide."

But again the gavel drowned him out and again he sat down.

"I'd bet a thousand dollars that Dr. Chadsey will be back," Mr. Loeb explained after the meeting.

Mr. Loeb was howled and gavelled.

LAMONT APPEALS TO HARVARD SONS TO RAISE MILLIONS

DECLARING the future of America depends upon the success with which universities function, Thomas W. Lamont, chairman of the Harvard university endowment fund committee, appealed yesterday to Harvard alumni in Chicago to complete their share of the work of establishing the $15,250,000 fund. Of this amount, $5,755,050 has been raised, it was announced.

The meeting, attended by more than 300 Harvard "sons" and their friends, was held at noon in the ballroom of the Hotel La Salle. In the afternoon Mr. Lamont spoke before a meeting of the woman's committee of the Harvard endowment fund committee at the Casino club.

"If America is to lead, we must train our men to be leaders," Mr. Lamont, who is a member of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., said at the noon meeting. "We cannot place them under the tutelage of competent instructors unless we can pay men qualified as instructors as much as other work offers."

Down every time he attempted to take the floor yesterday. Two changes in the board rules adopted yesterday are declared to be aimed against him. One provides for the appointment of a sergeant-at-arms and as many assistants as may be needed to preserve law and order. The other allows the chairman to order expelled a member who persists in speaking more than two minutes without the consent of the majority of the board.

'BRITAIN ALWAYS PAYS ITS DEBTS; ASKS NO BOUNTY'

Delegate Tells Trade Congress England Needs
No Credit.

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 20.—British financial delegates to the International Trade conference which opened here today, told their American conferees that they sought no special credit arrangements or government intervention, but simply asked that business transactions go on as before.

This announcement came as a surprise to the general body of delegates, especially as subcommittees of many foreign missions asked for American financial assistance and set forth that extension of credits was vitally necessary to successfully meet the reconstruction problems of their countries.

A. C. Bedford of New York, chairman of the executive committee of the conference, told the delegates, assembled in an informal general session, that American business men were ready to supply financial aid to the war stricken allies, but made it plain that they must be frank in explaining political and economic conditions in their own countries.

Bolshevism Must Go.
The success and permanency of business, he said, is dependent upon the stability of government, and American business men wanted to know whether any menace to the social order existed. The British point of view was set forth at a meeting of American and English credit and finance men, by Sir James Hope Simpson.

"The vast majority of Britishers never enter into a contract unless they can see their way to pay," he said. "We have not come to ask help of any organization. We ask only that no obstruction be placed in the way of ordinary normal business transactions."

Tells of Britain's Position.

In reviewing the financial position of Britain, Sir James said that Britain's total debt had increased from $700,000,000 sterling to $7,000,000,000 (nearly $35,000,000,000). Great Britain, he added, now owes $1,400,000,000 abroad, whereas it owed nothing before the war.

Foreign powers and colonies, he explained, owed England $1,700,000,000. No government will stand in England which would contemplate for a moment any weakening in regard to the payment of our debts," Sir James declared.

England is determined to pay her debts. She has always paid her debts and always will.

Although Britain lost 1,000,000 men during the war, Sir James said that during the period of hostilities machinery was added to supplement labor, with the result that the power of manufacture for export is approximately the same as it was before the war.

Sir James expressed the belief that the labor crisis had been passed in England and that the laboring classes were getting tired of strikes.

DEFIES JUDGE TO SAVE GIRL FROM MARRIAGE

Policewoman Prevents Forced Wedding of Pretty Greek.

BY LEOLA ALLARD.

Thirteen year old Elizabeth Georgios was saved from a very unhappy honey-moon yesterday by Mrs. Alice Clement, a kindly policewoman, who had her in charge, and who now stands ready and willing to face a charge of contempt of court for her action. Judge Edward Hayes has ordered her to appear Nov. 5 and show why she should not be held in contempt.

The girl, a Greek, and very pretty, was to be married to a man almost twice her age, named Anastasia Defkas. Defkas lived at her home most of the time, and according to the girl's story, had brought the child to grief, and she wanted to save her. Judge Hayes heard part of the story, and after the Greek said she wanted to marry the girl, the young people obtained a license.

Judge Victor P. Arnold of the Juvenile court forbade the wedding yesterday morning, before the case came up in Judge Hayes' court. The girl was a court ward and her case had not been heard there. Mrs. Fauvel, holding the child for the court, refused to turn her over at the hour for the wedding, and escaped from the court with her.

"Just Walked Out." "I just naturally walked out," Mrs. Fauvel explained. "I know Judge Hayes wouldn't want the girl to marry if he knew all about the case. His wife went with the young people to a dance on Saturday and the wedding was to take place today. If he had not heard him, I don't know what I would have done if I had, but anyway I walked out and I am glad."

The man has against him two charges. One serious one because of his relations with this girl, and one for seduction. His first wife, Mary McMillin, is here to show cause why the man is not fit to marry any one, and I'm going to stand by this girl."

Mary McMillin was married to Defkas, and there were two children born, but she says the marriage was annulled later, as it was not legal. "Only last week Defkas told me he would come back to me," Mrs. McMillin said. Assistant State's Attorney Robert W. Hogan of the Juvenile court, who said he would marry Elizabeth, but came back to me later. I believe he intended to take her to Greece, but he got me when I was only 17, and I would hate to see another girl treated the way he treated me."

Mrs. Fauvel says a passport to Greece was found on Defkas. Judge Hayes put Defkas under $10,000 bond.

The child is the daughter of Gus and Mary Georgios at 747 Webster avenue. She expressed hatred for Defkas and said:

"It's the custom to give your girls away in Greece, and the men marry them, but they pay so much. If I get away from Defkas they will make me marry some one else."

Orphaned by Homemade Booze. Four little children, whose mother and the family's star boarder died from drinking homemade whiskey, were brought to the Juvenile court yesterday as dependents. According to the officers in charge of the family, the mother did some home distilling in the family kitchen and she and the star boarder drank deep of the brew. The boarder died an hour later and the mother followed him.

The children—Charles, 12; Anna, 9; Paul, 8; and Emil, 3—are now wards of the court and will be placed where they will be cared for. The father, Paul Luka, is unable to give the children proper care, investigators report. The family lives at 4509 South Lavin street. The mother had been dead four weeks.

PRINTERS TOLD TO PUT I. AND R. ON ALL BALLOTS

Eleventh Hour Attack on Propositions Still Possible.

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.

Copy for the official ballots carrying the thirteen propositions that will be voted upon Nov. 4, went to the printers yesterday from the office of the board of election commissioners. The official copy carried the three so-called "I. and R." questions, and unless there is some court proceeding intervening, today or tomorrow, the Hearst interests' proposals will be on the ballots.

County Clerk Switzer has until tomorrow to make his certification to the election board. He has to wait until after today, the final day for the withdrawal of candidates for delegates to the constitutional convention. He announced he would make the certification.

There was a report, however, that could not be verified in detail, that an eleventh hour proceeding possibly may develop directed against at least one-half of the 102 county clerks of the state, who now have it within their power to print and distribute the official ballots for next month's election.

Five of the Labor Party candidates already are under fire at the county clerk's office, and more may be contested today. The five are James J. Maher and R. A. Sedlak in the Ninth district; William E. Rodriguez in the Twenty-third district, and John B. Maskell, and Douglas MacTevis in the Twenty-seventh district.

DOYLE'S SPIRITS ROUSE PASTORS' SOULS TO BATTLE

Author's Attack on Christianity Gets a Prompt Reply.

BY THE REV. F. L. GRATIOT.

A Conan Doyle's attack on Christianity and his claim that spiritualism would soon be the religion of the world has brought forth varied and violent comment on the part of clergymen of Chicago.

"Sir Conan Doyle as a writer of detective stories is especially strong when he sticks to his subject," said the Rev. John Timothy Stone, pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian church.

The Very Reverend William C. De Witt, dean of Western Theological seminary, said: "I enjoy Conan Doyle when he writes phony stories."

Concerns Church of England.

The Rev. John Thompson, superintendent of Methodist city missions, pointed out that Conan Doyle was answering attacks by the Church of England, and that therefore what he meant was that the Church of England had failed.

"Spiritualism has made no real contribution to religion," said the Rev. Mr. Thompson. "A man does not have to leave organized Christianity to get all that is valuable in spiritualism. Conan Doyle has overlooked the great contribution of Christianity to the betterment of the world."

"The church's doctrine of the Communion of Saints—that is, all Christian people—whether in this life or in the next, should satisfy all the faithful," said the Rt. Rev. Sheldon M. Griswold, suffragan bishop of Chicago.

When asked what he thought about Conan Doyle's statement that the church was a failure, the bishop said, "But Christianity has not failed. Practically everything of highest value in modern civilization we owe to the Christian religion. Christianity is a heaven which has not yet been fully absorbed by human society. Human society is not yet Christianized."

Monsignor Francis C. Kelley, president of the Catholic Extension society, said: "Conan Doyle claims that his brand of spiritualism constitutes a new revelation. Necromancy is as old as the history of religion."

Dr. Stone's Views.

"If Christianity has failed I don't know anything that has been a success," said the Rev. Dr. James S. Stone, rector of St. James Episcopal church. "Governments, schools, universities have not succeeded; society certainly has not succeeded."

The Rev. John D. McLaughlin, Ph. D., rector of the Church of Our Savior, Fullerton boulevard, said that Dean Inge, whom Sir Arthur called Ignorant, knew more about mysticism and was conversant with more varieties of spiritualism and other heresies than Doyle knew existed.

OCCASIONALLY you chance on pancakes of such rare goodness that it hardly seems as if human hands could have made them. The nut-brown meltingness, the savor of them as they are served piping hot—it all seems a product of magic.

And in a way it is magic—for nothing else can explain the genius of the American housewife.

The Mark of Savoy

But half the magic lies in the selection of the proper pancake flour. The American housewife knows that only the sheerest of white, light pancake flour—the kind that you get under the Savoy label—will give adequate expression to her skill. Grocers know this, too. You can tell it from the confident manner with which they respond to your request for Savoy pancake flour.

ROOSEVELT FUND FURNISHES TEST FOR CONSCIENCE

Silent Campaign for Memorial Gets Under Way.

A supreme test of the Americanism of the individual Chicago citizen began yesterday with the opening of the week's campaign for the Theodore Roosevelt memorial fund. A total of $450,000 is sought here—$250,000 for the city memorial and $200,000 for the national memorial fund.

It might be termed a conscience campaign. There are to be no tuggers, no solicitation, no demonstrations. Each man, woman, and child will be the sole judge of his or her contribution. Those in charge believe that is the only way Col. Roosevelt would have wished such a campaign to be conducted.

- Any Sum Welcome.
- The 10 cent contribution will be as welcome as the $10,000 one—perhaps in a sentimental way more so. That contributors may know where to send their offerings, the names and addresses of the chairmen of the various wards are published herewith:

'MADHOUSE' CAFE LOSES LICENSE, DUNLEA HIS STAR

Mayor Acts on Garrity Report of Battle at Shishem's.

Cabaret and restaurant licenses of the Eagle buffet, 1801 West Madison street, known as Jim Shishem's "madhouse cabaret," were revoked yesterday by Mayor Thompson, on the recommendation of Chief of Police Garrity. The place was closed last night. Another result of the slugging match and gun fight which occurred among habitués of the saloon early Sunday morning was an order, signed by Chief Garrity, suspending Patrolman Charles Dunlea of the Warren avenue station. Dunlea was beaten by a crowd of roughs when he attempted to arrest a man and woman who were quarrelling, and finally was relieved of his gun.

Cronin's Report. The official report of the affair, on which Chief Garrity made his recommendation to Mayor Thompson, was received from Capt. Thomas F. Cronin yesterday afternoon. It read as follows:

About 7 a. m. complaint was received of trouble between a man and a woman in the Eagle buffet, operated by James Shishem. Patrolmen Howden and Dunlea were sent to the saloon and, upon investigation, stated that they could find no sign of any trouble in the saloon.

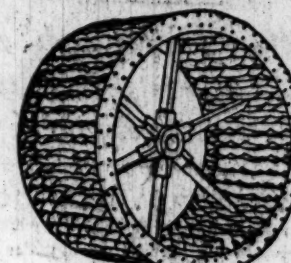

However, not more than from fifteen to thirty minutes later shooting occurred just outside of the saloon and the man who was shot was beating up a woman when officer Dunlea came up to him. Officer Dunlea placed this man and woman under arrest.

A crowd gathered, some of them coming from the saloon, and attacked the officer, four or five of them being armed with revolvers, according to statements of witnesses, and made it possible for the man and woman prisoners to escape.

Howden Escapes Suspension. Chief Garrity said no action is contemplated against Patrolman Howden, as he left the buffet and returned to his beat prior to either the shooting or the slugging of the woman. Capt. Cronin stated earlier in the day that he would prefer charges against Howden as well as Dunlea.

The whole case was scoured yesterday for "Crab" Sullivan, Danny Harzetti, the wounded man, and other men implicated in the shooting affair, and "information of value," according to Capt. Cronin, was the only result.

Building and Construction

The one big fundamental reason for the great activity in building and construction at the present time is DEMAND. After a period of practically no work of this character an acute shortage has made itself felt. Therefore rentals are much higher. Building NOW is profitable building. Besides DEMAND it is wise to proceed with building because it is useless to wait for any decrease in wages. The present standards of living and corresponding wage standards will not be any lower, so that it is advantageous to start operations of this kind immediately and derive the benefits resulting therefrom

DOCTORS BACK ROBERTSON IN DETAINING GIRLS

Judge Refuses Writ When Physicians Point to Disease Peril.

Eight of Chicago's leading physicians appeared yesterday before Judge Joseph B. David in the Superior court, in response to subpoenas, to inform him as to the treatment of social diseases. They were called to consider the cases of two girls held in the Lawndale hospital since their arrest by members of the morals squad.

An attempt was made to obtain the release of the women by the habeas corpus route, it being claimed in their behalf that Dr. John Hill Robertson, commissioner of health, had no power to order their detention, despite the ordinance passed in 1917 conferring power upon the health commissioner. Attorneys for the women contended that the ordinance was invalid, and obtained expert testimony Judge David subpoenaed the physicians and, as a result of their statements the women were ordered remanded to the hospital. Among those who testified were Dr. Harold N. Moyer, Hugh T. Moyer, Harry Kraus, Gustav Kolisch, James Whitney Hall, John Leeman, William O. Krohn, and G. Frank Johnson.

Call Diseases Contagious.

The judge agreed that social diseases are contagious, the main point at issue, and that they should be subjected to the same regulations as other contagious diseases. There was a difference of opinion as to the reliability of the Wasserman test as a means of ascertaining the presence of the most serious of the social diseases in the blood, and Dr. Lydston condemned as "arbitrary" the 1917 ordinance giving the health commissioner the power to order and treat diseased persons.

"The ordinance does not provide any scientific test," he said. "The Wasserman test is accurate in theory, but in practice it is most inaccurate." He declared that rigorous measures should be taken to stamp out social diseases and said that the ordinance was "a step in the right direction."

Favors Army Methods.

"I believe that the time will come when we will have to employ measures as rigorous as those used in the army to stamp out this evil," said Dr. Krohn. Dr. Robertson, in defending his position, asserted that he had power to detain persons and treat them for social diseases, not only under the 1917 ordinance, but also under the statute giving the commissioner of health to prevent the communication of contagious diseases.

"I would feel that I was derelict in my duty if I had not acted as I have acted in attempting to stamp out this disease," he said.

Points to Draft Records.

Dr. Robertson then read figures showing that among the second 1,000 men drafted into the army during the war 544 per cent. were afflicted with social diseases. Among the larger cities, New York was lowest, with a percentage of 2.17 per cent., while Chicago's was 2.47 per cent. The army sent to the army 4.71 per cent.

"The reason for New York's low record," he said, "was that that city had spent more money and had given

PRINCESS? TUT TUT!

Chicago Girl, Once Wooed by Italian Prince, Whose Secret Marriage to Doctor Is Bared.

Mrs. R. L. Owen, formerly Miss Mary Veronica Murphy.

PLAIN 'DOC' WINS GIRL SOUGHT BY PRINCE AS BRIDE

Mailman in Discard, Too, Mary Veronica Murphy Is Wed in Secret.

Since Dec. 12, 1912, an envelope bearing the name "Miss Mary Veronica Murphy" has had a place in the Tribune's reference room. By consulting sundry clippings and headlines which have accumulated since that time, the following chronological story was gleaned:

Dec. 12, 1912.—Chicago phone girl to be wed to prince. Operator quits switchboard to prepare for nuptials in New York.

Aug. 2, 1915.—Will take—well, as prince comes to sue for hand. Mary Veronica Murphy, little Chicago girl, to become nun to escape noble suitor.

Sept. 8, 1915.—Jilted real prince to wed postman. Mary Veronica Murphy, fiancée of Di Santa Margherita, in new romance.

A Tip by Telephone.

These chronicles, however, fail to set forth what became of the Prince of Santa Margherita of Messina, Italy, or Harry Rook, private citizen of Chicago and a doughty mail carrier for Uncle Sam.

On Dec. 12, 1915, Mary Veronica still was Miss Murphy, and as such acted as hostess at a Spanish ball.

Since that date she has lived in retirement—until yesterday, when a woman called The Tribune. Her statement follows:

"This is the Rock Island auditor's office."

"I wish to give you a tip—we have a girl in our office of the name of Miss Mary V. Murphy. At least that was her name.

"Well, she came down here this morning and tried to tell us she wasn't married, but we've been sleuthing and we know better."

Married—and to Doctor.

"She was married to Dr. R. L. Owen of 725 West Forty-third street on Oct. 1."

"This girl was once reported to be engaged to some Italian count, who was in America looking for a wife. The count also was reported to be engaged to Katherine Becker, the heiress."

"What's that—a picture? Send your man down and tell him to ask for the telephone operator—she'll lead him to the right party."

The reporter had no difficulty in finding "the right party." Mrs. Owen acknowledged her name, blushed, and begged to be excused from talking about her marriage.

"I can't be interrupted at my work," she said. "I am 'way behind. I just came back from my vacation."

Bridegroom Bashful, Too.

Dr. Owen was found at the Forty-third street address.

"There is nothing to it; we don't want anything published," he said.

Records in the county clerk's office show the ceremony was performed October 1 by Judge Harry McEwen, a country judge, in the marriage court. Mrs. Owen's address was given as 29 South St. Louis avenue.

"Dr. Owen boards with us," said Mrs. Edward Murphy of 725 West Forty-third street. "I don't know he was married. I have heard of Miss Murphy, but she is no relative of mine."

Former Maid Arrested in $100,000 Jewel Theft

New York, Oct. 20.—Mrs. Louise Armstrong, a maid formerly employed by Mrs. Leyla Brandeis, was arrested tonight following her indictment for implication in the theft of $100,000 worth of jewelry belonging to the wealthy widow of H. H. Brandeis. According to an assistant district attorney, none of the jewelry has been recovered. Others named in the indictment have not been arrested.

Probe Dunning Death; Injuries or Heart Disease?

Miss Emma Johnson, 50 years old, an inmate of the Chicago State hospital for the insane at Dunning, died suddenly at the hospital last night. Sunday afternoon she was knocked down by another patient. She suffered a fracture of a small bone in her left arm, but no attention was paid to the matter when she made no complaint.

"Death may have been caused by heart disease," said Dr. Edward A. Foley, assistant warden, last night. "An inquest will determine the exact cause."

Hubbard Woods Hill Auto Mystery Solved

The mystery is solved. The wrecked car with the blood spots found on Hubbard Woods Hill Sunday morning, belongs to Attorney Henry S. Robbins, 1108 Lake Shore drive, Chicago. His chauffeur, Thomas Thompson, took it out Saturday night, without permission, and was giving a ride to a friend. It is said. Both were considerably cut when the machine skidded. They went to the Highland Park hospital to be treated.

HOTEL PENNSYLVANIA

Think how pleasant your New York visit can be if you live at Hotel Pennsylvania.

THERE'S THE unusual comfort—and the unusual beauty—of the hotel, for one thing. It's more than luxury; comfort and good taste are the outstanding qualities of the Pennsylvania—as anybody who has been a guest there will tell you.

The convenient location makes "getting around" easier for the visitor to New York. The Fifth Avenue shops are just east of you, theatres immediately to the north—look at the map. All "down-town" is in easy reach by rapid-transit lines, because there's a subway station (both express and local) right in the building. Surface cars and Fifth Avenue busses pass the hotel's doors, and the elevated is a square and a half east.

Unexpected Conveniences

As an instance of the Pennsylvania's complete equipment, look at the two Turkish Bath establishments (one for women exclusively, one for men), each of which has its own swimming pool.

The beautiful "Butterfly Room," glass-enclosed (a sun-room on the roof), is both novel and delightful. There's a good library, too, for the use of guests; and many other "special" features.

Your Bedroom

Every bedroom has private bath, circulating ice-water, "Servidor" (an ingenious device which eliminates contact with servants at your bedroom door), full-length mirror, reading-lamp on head of bed, and many other unusual conveniences. A morning paper is delivered free to every guest-room.

Rates

Rooms for one person are $1.50, $2.00, $3.00 and $4.00; for two, $2.50, $3.00, $4.00 and $5.00; parlor suites are $13 and up.

Beautiful Hardwood Effects Enameled on Steel Beds—a Specialty of Simmons Company's New Designs in the Leading Stores.

THIS will be a new thought to you—Hardwood Effects enameled on a steel bed.

The whole idea is new. Impossible heretofore, in fact until Simmons Company invented its new Seamless Steel Tubing, and opened the way to really good design in metal beds and a perfect finish that admits of exquisite enameling in Decorative Colors and Hardwood Effects.

Now you can go to any of the leading merchants here in the city—select from perhaps a dozen charming designs, enameled in Mahogany, Oak or Circassian Walnut—or if you prefer, in Ivory or Colors.

The range of patterns is so great that you will find beds to harmonize with antiques and "Period" pieces.

The pattern illustrated is the "Stuyvesant." Then there is the "Sheraton," the "Plymouth," the "Tudor," the "Florentine," the "Colonial" and a number of others.

SIMMONS Company has been working on the problem of good design in metal beds for years.

But really good designs cannot be carried out in old-style tubing. It has a seam running the full length of the tube. It cannot be worked into the shapes. It is apt to be rough—does not take the enamel smoothly.

All these new designs are made with the Simmons Seamless Steel Tubing—a new invention of the greatest practical importance.

Square and trim—free from joints, seam and roughness. Beautifully smooth, so that the enamel lies tight and evenly all over—does not scratch, check or chip.

YOU will find these fine new Simmons designs in Beds Built for Sleep in the leading stores. Quiet beds, with the Simmons Pressed Steel Corner Locks—free from squeak or rattle.

Your choice of many different patterns—and of Twin Pairs and Double Width in each pattern. Enameled in the accepted Decorative Colors, and in Mahogany, Oak and Circassian Walnut.

Simmons Springs, too—

The Slumber King—a spring composed of flexible steel strips with spirals of high-test spring wire; so combined that the spring action is equal in all directions.

The Mount Vernon—the Simmons improvement on the box spring idea.

And some very charming Brass Beds and Children's Cribes—built for sleep—by the Simmons Company.

Safeguarding Your Fuel Supply

Large users of coal—railroads, traction lines, central stations and big manufacturing plants—find in the present unsettled conditions a source of anxiety. They must be certain that they have eliminated so far as possible—all chances for failure in their fuel supply.

To those having their own mines we offer engineering and management service that reduce cost of production as well as giving assurance of supply.

To those contemplating the purchase or sale of coal mines we offer services as independent appraisers.

Having developed our business from small retail coal merchants, 36 years ago, to operating twenty-eight mines with an annual capacity of fourteen million tons, we believe we have a knowledge of fuel production and distribution that you will find of value to your company.

If you have a fuel problem, we will gladly assist in its solution.

TROUSERS HUNG IN WRONG FLAT,
WIFE SAYS; SUESRobert J. Muir Replies with Action Naming Aviator.

"Of course I loved him—loved him more than any mortal man was ever loved—but they were his trousers and I could never love him," Mrs. Muir said gently tucking a strand of her brown hair under the lace boudoir cap.

In one sentence did Mrs. Rose M. Muir, who is living on the near north side while her divorce suit is pending, explain yesterday why she is through with Robert J. Muir, $8,000 a year consulting salesman.

Mrs. Muir had sued for divorce, naming Mrs. Addie Johns, 4609 Beacon street. The bill stated that Mrs. Muir had discovered her own library lamp, her own mahogany bed room set, and her own husband's trousers in Addie's apartment. The trousers were the divorce evidence, the bill said.

Husband Names Aviator.

Then yesterday Muir, through his attorney, T. Fred Laramie, filed a cross bill charging Mrs. Muir with infidelity and naming Lieut. Neville Kavanagh, a first air force flyer. The indiscretions are said to have occurred in the same atmosphere of California.

It is further charged that Mrs. Muir had the young pilot arrested for taking diamonds—and later refused to prosecute, because the aviator "might kill."

Mrs. Muir's Story.

Mrs. Muir, shrinking into the dark corner of her living room, told her story yesterday.

"This twilight is comforting, you know," she said, drawing her blue and white kimono close. "Now, that first flyer—he was quite wonderful, I know, but just a plaything—I told him to go to church with me on Sunday—and the church was too small. There were parties, but I won't imitate. Maybe a little champagne occasionally, but to no great extent. Yes, he was just a playmate."

"I loved Bob more than anything in the world, but when I came home from California and found everything in that other woman's apartment—well, I could hardly expect me to continue after that."

"That's Catty, Isn't It?"

"I hope he is satisfied with her—I'm sure I couldn't be if I were him. But catty, isn't it? Well, it has been a great lesson. All men are catty, except, perhaps, one or two. I won't run right out and get married again—but I do like to play."

MURDERER KILLS BABY.

Baby Travis, 4 years old, 721 South La Street, died in St. Luke's hospital yesterday of burns received Oct. 6 while he was being swung a bonfire. His clothing was found in a flying piece of paper.

SUGAR REFINERS
MAY CHARGE 10C
TO WHOLESALERS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—The department of justice took steps today to bring prompt relief in the nation-wide sugar shortage.

Best sugar refiners who have been withholding their products from the market until they obtain more accurate information of the price to be fixed for sugar were notified by Attorney General Palmer today that the sugar equalization board had decided 10 cents a pound was a fair price to be charged to wholesalers.

Any charge for sugar beyond 10 cents a pound, the attorney general stated, would be regarded as a violation of the food control act. He advised the best sugar refiners to wire their concurrence in the price fixed and place their product on the market at once.

TELLS FINANCIAL NEEDS OF CITY

Financial home rule for Chicago, including the consolidation of taxing bodies, was the recommendation of Ald. John A. Richtert, for eight years chairman of the city council finance committee, to the special council committee considering Chicago's constitutional needs yesterday.

"If for one week Chicago to have absolute home rule over its finances," said Ald. Richtert. "It should be given the right to determine its own tax rate and its bonding power. The people themselves by referendum vote should be given the right to determine the city's limitations."

Ald. Richtert asserted that Chicago tax bills, including seven different tax rates in some instances, are nonsensical and that the constitutional convention should provide for the consolidation of taxing bodies.

CONFERENCE ON POLICE CLEANUP IS POSTPONED

Chief Garrity's long expected clean-up of the police department in the form of charges against a half dozen police captains did not materialize yesterday with the return to the city of Capt. Percy B. Coffin, head of the civil service commission.

"Accumulated business and preparations for the welcome of Cardinal Mercier prevented the conference," said Capt. Coffin. "We will try to get together tomorrow afternoon or Wednesday morning."

Capt. Coffin expressed surprise at a report that one of the captains to be named in the charges is Capt. Morgan A. Collins of the Central station. Capt. Coffin said he has always considered Capt. Collins one of the best commanding officers on the force and was inclined to the belief that no charges will be brought against him. In a telephone conversation with Capt. Coffin the chief asserted that no specific charges have been prepared as yet and that Capt. Coffin's advice as to the value of the information in the chief's hands is being sought.

The Youth's Companion

America's Most Unique Publication

The foremost institution in the United States for developing united families. Without united families there can be no United States. The Companion lives because the family must live. It is a great family tie, a community asset, a Nation builder. The Companion gives the widest range in variety of reading—from all best sources—for every wholesome taste—of every age. Entertainment and information, solid and sensible articles of power, short stories and Companion humor. Your family cannot get the same things from any other source—at any price.

Mother just can't help liking The Companion through and through. She likes it for herself, likes to know what the children are feeding their minds upon, likes the stories, the Family Page, The Companion receipts and the doctor's corner. And above all she believes in it—because she sees the results in the home.

Father finds Youth's Companion Editorials are the clearest cut, most impartial and widest in range of any editorial page published. You will catch him reading the adventure stories, too, as well as the big articles. Nature and Science and Current Events columns keep him posted. He knows that Y. C. humor is famous.

The Children's Page is a storehouse of appropriate things to read to the little ones before they are able to read for themselves. Nothing in publishing is harder to produce of a high order than a children's page. Strange how all ages read it, isn't it? Are we all just children grown bigger and older?

The Boys think the paper is all theirs. Their heads are into the adventure stories, the Boys' Page, the short stories, things to make, Stamps to Stick, games, trapping and everything that delights and helps your boys. If your eye is on their future this is the kind of reading you will wish them to have.

The Girls find the Girls' Page "after their own hearts." The Family Page also interests them, and, strange to say, they like the adventure stories quite as well as do the boys, although every issue has a special girls' story. Y. C. receipts, dainty things to make, pin-money ideas, special articles and other things of interest.

THE COMPANION BRINGS the equivalent of a library of 35 volumes (at $1.65 per volume) of the most delightful reading selected by a great corps of experts, and all for only $2.50. That's just what the Whole Family gets in 52 Weekly Issues of The Youth's Companion—at less than 5 cents a week.

THERE IS EXTRA PLEASURE in the weekly coming of The Youth's Companion. It distributes its happiness often as well as liberally. Companion readers gain greatly by having Serial Stories, important and timely Editorials, Current Events, etc., in weekly portions.

Kardex works this way: Each record is kept on a standard size card which slips in a tough fibre envelope that holds the card so that both sides can be used without removing. The envelopes are quickly inserted or removed from the frames, singly or in bunches.

Each card is held in place by the exposed, transposed pocket of the envelope which discloses the name of the card, yet encloses it from dirt, dust and marks of constant handling. A variety of simple color guides permit all the re-classifications desired.

When a record is wanted the name is always in sight. Just slide up the cards above it and make your notations, without removing the card. It is the most rapid way to make entries or check up records. One clerk does the work of four. And the system, always in good order, is so self-explanatory, you don't have to depend upon her to find the desired data—everyone in your office will understand the Kardex.

Find out how Kardex will save time, money and clerk-cost for you—how easily you can convert your present card records to Kardex.

ONWENTSIA TEAM TO SEEK HONORS IN FLORIDA POLO

Goes South in January for 2 Months' Play; Meeting Here Tomorrow.

A meeting of Chicago poloists will be held at the Chicago club tomorrow at 12:30 o'clock to make plans for the season of 1920. Capt. Prentiss L. Conley, who led the Onwentsia team in its successful finish of what was at the beginning a disastrous season, will preside.

According to present indications there will be twenty-five or thirty new players out for the team at Onwentsia next year, and it is likely that several teams will be formed.

Onwentsia Team to Go South. With the opening of the new polo fields at Miami, Fla., next January Capt. Conley will lead his quartet south for a two months' campaign.

The team will play a group of teams from the north, such as the Dayton outfit, the Thousand Island four, and a team from Long Island. The Onwentsia will play three games a week for six weeks.

Championship Tourney Planned. Then during the last two weeks there will be a tournament for the championship of Florida in which Camden, N. J.; Philadelphia, and Albany, N. Y., will be represented as well as the clubs previously mentioned.

There are two splendid polo fields just finished at Miami. Capt. H. H. Holmes, internationally known as a polo official, will be umpire and general manager.

Onwentsia will be minus the services of Laurence Armour in its invasion of the south, but Conley, Reynolds, and Rader already have determined to go, and there are several likely candidates for the fourth position.

EYES SURE TO "COP" IF THEY BEAT YOST'S MEN

Eyes to Focus on This Game Saturday; Purple Plays Maroon.

WALTER ECKERSALL. Although three other games of importance will be played in the west tomorrow, eyes of the football fans will be focused on Ann Arbor, where Michigan and Ohio State will meet in a game which will have an importance bearing on the Big Ten title and the western championship.

If Ohio State wins it will be the 1919 champion. If Michigan defeats the strong Buckeyes, the Wolverines will be on a golden road to the title.

The strength of these eleven is so well known that the victor must be a stronger aggregation than any other conference team seen in action for this season.

Both Eleven Fit for Battle. The teams are being groomed for the clash like race horses for a derby. Both eleven have played enough preliminary games to fit them for Saturday's struggle and neither coach has overlooked any of the fundamental or advanced points in development. It was a great battle between all departments fortified in all departments of play.

Local fans will journey to Stagg field to watch the Maroons and Northwest. The game will be featured by good football as Chicago showed an open attack last Saturday while Northwest turned loose its open work late in the Wisconsin contest.

Badger Defeat Not Harmful. Northwestern can be counted upon to recover from the Badger defeat. The Purple players certainly showed more of the experience of one who has before Wisconsin was met. Having this experience, it will be an entirely different team which will face the Maroon eleven.

Coach Bachman's players realize they did not display the attack of which they are capable. It was the struggle with instructions to play an entirely different game.

Close followers of football still are unable to do the Maroons. Stagg's team played good football against the Badgers and if they show improvement with the playing of every game, they will be in the running for the title.

Sluggish as many players of experience all that is needed is team spirit to effect the ground gaining ability of Chicago's future opponents who have stars of known ability.

Great Interest in Clash. In the past the Chicago-Northwestern game always has attracted a maximum of interest. This season the struggle may draw one of the largest crowds which ever saw the Maroons and Purple. Northwestern alumni supporters are taking a keener interest in the game than in years past. It will be developed in all branches of the game.

Illinois, which was compelled to play at the football it knew last Saturday at West, will entertain Wisconsin at Champaign. The down-staters have not reached the point of development where they can be considered a serious contender for the title. Coach Juppke is well aware of this fact. He will make the offense more perfected so that men are taken off properly in the interference while the forward wall grows strengthening. The material is there and the team can be expected to show a marked reversal of form at any time.

Badgers Play Illinois. Encouraged by its victory over Northwestern, Wisconsin will make every effort to put Illinois out of the running. A championship team has been needed at Madison for a number of years and Coach Richards certainly has the material for a winner this season. The team is strong defensively and at times showed a powerful attack in the Northwestern game.

The game and gritty Iowa eleven, which was put out of it last Saturday because of failure to down an onside kick, will tackle Minnesota at Minneapolis. The Hawkeyes can be relied upon to give the Gophers a strong argument if their good players, recovered in last Saturday's game, recover in time to play. If Iowa has not its complete strength at the start of the season, Minnesota should win because the team is showing signs of developing rapidly, a feature of former Gopher coaches. Purdue and Indiana has no game scheduled.

Notre Dame vs. Normal. Notre Dame will clash with Western Normal at Michigan at South Bend in a game which will make Coach Rockwell's men play better ball than they did against Nebraska. The Normal team defeated the Michigan Aggies recently and will be a stronger

STAGG DRIVES TEAM THROUGH RAIN TO GET MORE PEP IN ATTACK

BY MAROON.

Through a drizzling rain Coach Stagg drove the Chicago football team in a three hour signal drill yesterday to get a more highly developed attack for the Northwestern game, now only five days away.

The Maroons displayed surprising strength and weakness in their opening conference game with Purdue. The showing was a paradox, for it was believed that their offense was well advanced, while there was fear expressed that the defense would be weak.

The Maroons upset the hope by allowing Purdue only one first down in the first three quarters.

Line Holds Stanchly. The Chicago line was a surprise on defense, for the Maroons smothered nearly everything Scanlon sent at them. Higgins and Jackson at the tackles were stanch and the center of the line repulsed the Boltemaker smashes. Swenson showed well at guard in his first game, and broke through often to mugs up plays before they got under way.

The Maroon attack was nowhere near as powerful as expected. Elton and Hanisch were halted in their tracks on straight plays.

Duno Annan was not in uniform last night. On the last play of the first half his left elbow was hurt. Sunday it swelled badly and yesterday he could not bend it.

Students in Parade. Approximately 250 Northwestern students will take part in an automobile parade from Evanston to Stagg field if permission is given by the Chicago authorities and an escort of mounted motorcycle policemen is provided.

President Lynn Harold Hough of Northwestern university will ride in the first automobile.

MICHIGAN GRADS TO GATHER NOV. 7 Michigan "grads" will get together on Friday night, Nov. 7, at the University club, to feast and hear comments from Coach Yost, Judge Bill Day, and Tom Hammond on what the Michigan team is going to do to A. A. Stagg's Maroon aggregation the next day.

Michigan is billed to play the Maroons at Chicago and the dinner and smoker will serve as a pep meeting for all Michigan rooters in town.

The Wolverine ticket allotment for the game is being rapidly sold out, and all rooters who want to sit in the Michigan section should get their orders in to Paul M. Godehn, 208 La Salle.

The Michigan band will entertain at both the smoker and game.

In the Wake of the News By JACK LAIT

The Red Cross has made its first accounting. Not the first accounting of the Red Cross will be made to the Judge on high.

When the last record of mercy and of man's humanity to man shall have been entered, then the Red Cross will have made its first accounting.

They might at least permit 2.75 caliber bullets and light guns.

It's hard these days to get a shot in any country on this continent.

Man in West Virginia who married three women adjudged insane. A Daniel. What's the judge waiting his time for in West Virginia?

Some are nasty enough to say that a man who marries even one woman—O, well, who cares what some say.

MAY I NOT SUGGEST THAT—Marriage, a sacred institution, be kept out of frivolous columns, secure from flippant discussion, and immune from profane observation.

ENGLISH CLUB SEEKS YEAR TO REORGANIZE POLO Due to a severe shortage of polo ponies and the loss of many of their players who are still in service, the Hurlingham club of England has sent a request to the Polo Association of America that no challenge be issued to the English club until 1921 in order to give the English club a chance to reorganize and build up a new team worthy of international competition.

In his letter to the American club, the Hurlingham president said: "Your association has on former occasions met us with such sportsmanlike consideration that I feel they will once more fall in with our proposal, and appreciate that our anxiety is to make our next contest worthy of the record which our friendly rivalry of past years has established."

The American Polo association has sent the English club a letter assuring them that the challenge will not be presented until the English team is in full form and ready to compete. The Americans also have sent offers to help in any way to reestablishment of the Hurlingham club and the national polo team for England.

GREEN BAY ELEVEN WANTS TO MEET CHICAGO'S BEST G. W. Calhoun of Green Bay, Wis., claims to have a football team capable of beating any team in the middle west. He is so confident in it that he is willing to pay the full expenses, including three meals, for sixteen men of some crack Chicago team willing to go to Green Bay Sunday, Nov. 9. This aggregation, averaging about 175 pounds, ran up a total score of 345 points to their opponents' 8 in the five games played this season. Calhoun is especially anxious to pit his men against either the Pullman-Thorns, Cornells, or Ham-burgs.

GROVE WILL CAPTAIN PURPLE SWIMMERS; TEAM A CRACKERJACK

BY EVAN STONE.

Harry Grove, 20, a veteran of the Northwestern 1917 star tank team, was unanimously elected captain of the Purple swimming squad yesterday at the first meeting of Tom Robinson's swimmers. Milton Branover, a member of the 1917 and 1918 teams, was chosen water basketball captain. Ten "N" men voted.

Robinson claims to have the most brilliant array of material that he has had in some years. Twenty-five varsity pool men showed up and more are in school. Among the strong old timers who reported were Knight, Post, Lowry, Wells, Halley, Eugenein, and McMurdie.

Max Hayford Real Star. Max Hayford, Evanston academy intercollegiate champ fancy diver, one of Robinson's best when a freshman, and since then an ensign, also appeared. The coach says that Max is the most versatile tank man in the conference, as he can do the back stroke as easily as the crawl, and anything from forty yards to a quarter mile as well as the best.

Without any forewarning a comet darted into Coach Robinson's office and almost bowled over the latter with surprise. The newcomer was no less than Jimmy Dickson, stellar Annapolis performer in the 40, 100, 220, 440, and relay for the last two years. He will be unable to swim on the varsity this year, owing to the year's residence requirement.

Prepare for Maroon. Coach Bachman's humbled gridders put in an hour on signal drill yesterday and quit when it started to rain. Prof. Pooley and Coach Elliott, who were gunsmithing at Stagg field on Saturday, gave out their dope and the coach hopes to have the fresh use it today against the varsity.

SEWARD FIVE CALLS PLAYERS. Fred Seward, manager of the Seward Park Midgets basketball five, has called a meeting of his players for tonight at the Seward Park gymnasium. He requests the presence of candidates for this season's team.

"The Speed Maniac" is right snappy!

It should register another success for Mr. Mix, who, since his advent to the screen has been "hitting" with considerable regularity.

The title of the picture is going it a little strong for it gives you the impression that the star is a la Douglas Fairbanks, inclined to be a bit nutty (on the screen). Whereas the gentleman is anything but that.

You meet this Billy Porter in "I Think Arizona" where he has a ranch.

He lives on the ranch, but rides into town pretty often to visit his mother, who is married to "Bill" McLaughlin, proprietor of the main saloon. His mother is a lovely white haired lady with an air of mystery about her which is explained quite early in the story.

Mumtill tell you about that.

Well, Billy is the inventor of an automobile that will go a mile in thirty seconds. Strangely enough, the gods lead him to San Francisco, where, still most strangely he meets with a father, a fortune and the one girl.

There's a prizefight in "The Speed Maniac," which I should say was pretty good—never having seen the real thing. There's an automobile race with a wreck at "Dee th Curv" that's a pippin. And there's really quite a little pith and plausibility to the plot. The supporting cast is excellent.

One thing sure, you'll like the hero quite as well in "city clothes" as in the honest habilliment of the west. No, sir, there AREN'T any honest city clothes just at present. Anything that doesn't fall to pieces or look like the wrath of the gods costs seventeen times more than it ought to.

[Which settles that argument, we should say.]

On Its Last Legs.

He was a dashing city chap, I a small town maid with a weakness for trying out the inspiring stuff I absorbed from "make your home attractive" columns in magazines. My latest spam was an ancient table, hauled down from the attic, with several chairs of similar vintage and successfully camouflaged with French gray paint. These installed in our secluded, screened-in porch, suggested romantic tête-a-tête possibilities, so when we returned from that first wonderful evening at the movies, I commandeered some of mother's famous cake, improvised a few sandwiches, and topped it off with a pitcher of lemonade. The porch was dimly lit and everything going off smoothly, when I accidentally kicked the leg of my French gray antique, which the leg promptly resented by disconnecting itself from the main structure and precipitating a medley of sandwiches, chocolate cake, and lemonade on the dashing chap's white flannel trousers. His exit was quick and rather silent, and I'm inclined to believe he chose the darkest route back to his hotel.

BY JANE EDDINGTON. Medley Grape Juice.

This is the season when there is the greatest variety of grapes in the market, and because of the present shortage of sugar a prospective store of grape may look more than usually serviceable. That government publication, the "Weekly News Letter," for Oct. 2, has quite an article on the making of grape juice and one of the subheadings reads: "Medley grape juice is best." It says:

"The necessity for sweetening, acidifying or blending grape juices to secure desirable character and flavor may usually be avoided in the home preparation of grape juice if the operator has access to a number of varieties where different flavors will blend to produce a sprightly product. Where it is necessary to sweeten the grape juice a level teaspoonful of sugar to a pint of juice usually is adequate, although it is advisable to add the sugar gradually and to depend upon the taste of the operator rather than upon an arbitrary rule. Grape juice may be acidified, sweetened, or blended at almost any time, although it is preferable that the work be done as soon as possible after the juices are extracted in order that clarification may not be interrupted.

"Clarification should start as soon as the pressing is finished. The juice should be allowed to stand undisturbed, in deep, wooden or enamel vessels, in order that the pulp may settle for four to six hours or over night. The juice should then be filtered or strained through a clean double cheese cloth in such a manner as not to disturb the sediment deposited while standing. This transfer of the juice may be accomplished by siphoning or by careful dipping or pouring."

STATE BOARD TO PASS ON 5 CENT FARE BY FRIDAY

Expert Tells How Valuation of Surface Lines Was Made.

So long as they could pull, all horses and trucks looked alike to the experts who prepared the valuation of the properties of the Chicago Surface Lines, on the basis of which the car companies are attempting to retain the 5 cent fare.

Cross-examination of A. L. Drum, one of the consulting engineers who placed a value of $200,000,000 on the company's properties, before the public utilities commission yesterday revealed that the only question asked in making the valuations was: "Is it serviceable?"

Didn't Examine Horses. "When you valued these forty-five horses at $10,000 each, did you know what they were?" asked Special Assistant Corporation Counsel Cleveland of Mr. Drum.

"No," was the answer. "What was their condition?" "We didn't go into that so long as they could give service."

"In other words, all horses looked alike to you, no matter what their age or previous condition of servitude?" "That's right."

Motor Trucks, Also. The same was true of motor trucks, the witness said. He said that all the valuations represented the cost of reproduction of the properties, and declared that "to the companies" and "for the purpose of this lawsuit" the valuations are correct.

Mr. Drum also admitted that in his valuations he had included items for removal of elevated line supports, poles, tracks, and other changes which would not necessarily have to be met if the company was to reconstruct its system.

Didn't See Cars. Mr. Drum testified that the company has 2,000 cars, which he valued at $42,000,000. He said he didn't count them, and that the figure was taken from the company's books.

The value of the buildings was also set at $42,000,000 by Mr. Drum, who admitted that buildings valued at $3,000,000 are not in use at present. The company's four automobiles were valued at $11,000. One is 6 years old, but, inasmuch as it will run, its value is estimated as that of a new one, Mr. Drum said.

Ruling Due Friday. At the close of the hearing it was announced that a ruling on the city's petition to reestablish the 5 cent fare will be made Friday.

Jacob Ringer, a member of the law firm of Ringer & Wilharts, took his place among the attorneys for the city yesterday. He is the first attorney employed by Corporation Counsel Eitelson under the recent resolution of the city council authorizing the expenditure of $95,000 in the fight to lower the street car fares.

Committee Meets Tomorrow. Aid. Henry D. Capitani, chairman of the council local transportation committee, returned from his vacation yesterday and announced that a meeting of the committee will be held tomorrow afternoon. It is probable that Mayor Thompson's plan for municipal ownership and operation of the street car system will be taken up.

ACT TO END FACTORY WASTE. The sanitary district engineering committee yesterday decided to send out notices to all corn products concerns, asking representatives to attend a meeting Monday for a discussion on the elimination of factory waste. The following week, Trustee Wallace G. Clark said, the sanitary district will confer with the committee.

TERROR TACTICS TO BOOST MILK LAID TO FARMERS

Mobs, Raids on Wagons, Near-Hanging, Bared by Witnesses.

Waylaying farmers and milk wagon drivers and dumping the wagons into the ditch was one of the means employed by the Illinois Milk Producers' association to boost prices in the Chicago zone, according to witnesses in Judge Joseph Fitch's court yesterday.

U. A. Lavery, an attorney for the Bowman Dairy company, told how he rescued a deputy sheriff and a milk wagon driver from a mob of irate farmers in April, 1918.

Lavery was attending a meeting of about 100 members of the association in a grove near Palatine. The meeting broke up, he said, when one of the speakers saw a Bowman wagon coming down the road. The farmers surrounded the wagon and threatened the life of the driver and the deputy, Lavery testified. He jumped up on the wagon, he said, and persuaded the deputy to give him his revolver, with which he succeeded in dispersing the crowd.

"Hanging Bee" Nipped. After the meeting in the grove he went to Palatine, he said, where he found a mob had surrounded the Bowman plant and was threatening to hang the deputy unless he gave up his revolver. The crowd eventually broke up to go and dump over other milk wagons coming into town, he declared. Earlier in the day, Louis Hart, another attorney for the Bowman company, testified that damage suits totaling $370,000 that had been brought against the producers' association were dropped because the association threatened to boycott the company.

This threat, he said, was in the nature of a resolution adopted at a meeting of association members at the Morrison hotel.

A Raise or No Milk. Sherman C. Chapell, vice president of the Kee & Chapell Dairy company, was the last state witness in the afternoon. He testified his company handled about 200 cans of milk daily. Despite existing contracts the company, he said, had been forced to pay an increase in April, 1918.

He said that during a conversation with two of the defendants, Charles H. Potter and Willis J. Kittle, he was told he could choose between paying an increase and receiving no milk.

PIT BALKS AT $6,250,000 FOR NEW BUILDING

High cost of building has halted one big loop project. Yesterday the building committee of the Board of Trade decided the estimates of the architects for a new skyscraper home for the board were too high. They came to $6,250,000, with a possibility of $250,000 to $500,000 more. In addition, the board would face the necessity of paying from $450,000 to $250,000 for moving and rental while the new building was being erected. The committee's decision will be reported to the directors.

According to one of the members of the committee, their decision is expected to be final.

The Gray Shop For Women Who Require Larger Sizes

These days when women are making their winter coat selections without delay, the women whom the Gray Shop serves will be highly interested, we believe, in this announcement.

The Gray Shop Presents Complete Assortments Of Winter Coats In The Finer Modes From $60 to $240

The luxurious-looking fabrics, deep-piled and deep-toned, fashion these coats. Expert treatment of line is evidenced in the graceful sweep of the modes, in the effect of the sleek and slender attained by unbroken length from shoulder to waist.

At $200 a group of coats in especially mentioned. These coats are of Bolivia cloth in rich subdued shades, then there is a deep collar of Hudson seal (dyed muskrat).

It is important to note that in these coats, as well as in all the other apparel presented in the Gray Shop, modes are varied to meet the tastes and preferences of young women as well as of those of more mature years, all who require the larger sizes.

Responsibility in Merchandise

CONSTRUCTIVE Merchandising, permeating every branch of our business, is illustrated in hundreds of ways in our Store.

Consider Bedding, for example. We manufacture, in our own sanitary workrooms, all the hair mattresses we sell. This is also true of our making of box springs. As to pillows—we have one of the largest and best-equipped feather-curing factories in the country.

Realizing the importance of bedding in relation to health, this Store has fought unflinchingly for hygienic manufacture, and, when it failed in getting what it required, took up the manufacture for itself.

We know our responsibility to the public—and assume it.

Here Is a Remarkable Selling Women's Winter-weight Suits Special at $50

YOU will have to see them to appreciate in full measure the exceptional opportunity which is here offered to women this morning. Could we even hint the prices for which such Suits would sell ordinarily you could better grasp the full extent of these values.

Fine Checked Wools, Heavy Knit-fabrics, Novelty Mixtures, Suede Velours

But words do scant justice to the beauty of the textures, to the rich warmth of the colors, to the painstaking details in tailoring. Six of about ten styles at this special price are illustrated.

Tiny checked wool makes the smart Suit at the left, slenderly belted with patent leather and suede, and lined with a beautiful printed silk of very good quality. Buttonholes are hand-piped; the tailoring is of the best; a box-plait trims the center back, and outlines the pockets and front seams.

Below are illustrated a Suit of suede velours, with interesting side details, button trimmed; two heavy weight heather mixture wool jersey Suits, both exceptionally tailored, interlined and silk lined, made in beautiful styles for street and general wear—very practical these are, too!—and a Suit of a mixed woolen, very superior at this price.

There are sizes 33 to 52, and such desirable colorings as brown, navy, black, green and a wealth of attractive mixtures.

If you hope to buy one of these very specially priced Suits, you will find it advisable to come early.

Doctor Blames Smoking for Increase in Cancers

New York, Oct. 20.—The increasing in smoking by both men and women means an increase in cancer, said Dr. William Mayo of Rochester, Minn., at the ninth annual congress of surgeons at the Waldorf Astoria hotel tonight.

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf from an old book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some minor discoloration and small dark spots, characteristic of old paper. The page is framed by dark borders on the left and right sides, which appear to be the edges of the book's binding or the scanner's frame. There is no text or other markings on the page.

Snowhook appeared before Judge J. J. Landis some time ago when bankruptcy proceedings were filed against him by discharged gunners who claimed that he owes them some $8,000, deposited with him overseas. He obtained a continuance after he made the assertion that his interests were behind him.

PERMITS TO BE DEMANDED FOR GRAIN LOADING

Rail Administration Acts to Conserve Storage Room.

BY CHARLES D. MICHAELS.
Owing to scarcity of storage, and to conserve what is available at the leading markets, the railroad administration has decided to put the individual permit system into force Oct. 25, applicable to all grains to Chicago, Milwaukee, Kansas City, Omaha, and St. Louis.

This will restrict the loading of grain except under permit, as it did last spring and tend to hold the arrivals down to limits within the ability of the railroads to furnish cars. It will prevent any rush of grain to the leading markets.

Grains in Easy Close.
Traders who expected the highest prices for corn and oats futures made at the start to hold were disappointed, as there was too much reselling pressure coupled with local short selling for the moderate buying support. Good rallies followed the first break, but values receded at the last and finished around the low point with corn off 1/4¢ to 1/2¢, the latter on the distant futures, while oats lost 1/4¢. Rye was heavy and 2 1/2¢ lower at the last in Chicago.

In the southwestern markets corn lost 1/4¢ to 1/2¢, with St. Louis leading, and oats lost 1/4¢ to 1/2¢, Kansas City leading. In Minneapolis prices were 1/4¢ lower, and in Winnipeg 1/4¢ for December and 1/4¢ for October, with 124 cars in.

Profit Taking in Corn.
Corn futures were highest at the start and lowest at the close after a range of 2 1/2¢. Scattered buying was in evidence at the start and found offerings light, but strong commission houses quickly became good sellers, believing that the upturn of 1/4¢ from the inside figure of the previous week was sufficient for the time being and prices started downward. At 1:15 for December there was active buying on resting orders, but in the last few minutes of trade local professionals who have been bearish for some time started to sell heavily and the close was weak, with December at $1.25 1/4 and May at $1.23 1/4.

While 3 cars of new corn were reported at the various markets, not a car graded sample. Exports had 5 cars, No. 4 yellow bringing $1.23 1/4, No. 5 yellow $1.20, and No. 6 yellow $1.25 1/4. A car of new No. 4 white received here tested 17.5 per cent moisture and sold at $1.22, while a car of new No. 2 yellow, 15.2 per cent moisture, sold at $1.27. Omaha had its first car of new grain of the season, it came from Iowa, graded No. 2 yellow, 15.1 per cent moisture, and sold at $1.27. Receipts 210 cars. Sample values unchanged to 1/4¢ lower.

Oats Lower with Corn.
Less attention is being given the oats market now that corn is active. Trade was mainly local, and prices easier, in sympathy with the major grain, the close being about 1/4¢ lower, with December 71¢ and May 74¢.

Domestic shipping call showed improvement, with sales of 140,000 bu, and 50,000 bu were sold to seaboard exporters. Sample values were unchanged to 1/4¢ higher, with receipts 22 cars. Country offerings were not large; the visible supply decreased 350,000 bu.

Rye Market Weakens.
Owing to the unsatisfactory outlook for exporting large quantities of rye, there was considerable pressure on futures, and prices declined and closed 2 1/2¢ lower. Cash lots sold slowly, with No. 2 at $1.18 1/4 to 1/2. Receipts 22 cars. Country offerings were not large, and with a better demand, prices were unchanged, despite the easier tone in coarse grains. Spot sales were at $1.19 1/4 to 1/2. Receipts 23 cars.

Provision Market Lower.
Liberal selling of lard, with buying power poor, most of the time, carried prices down, and they closed at nearly the inside, with good local export pork, prices also declined, except October pork, which was bid up $2.25 at the last, to the highest of the day.

With hogs and corn lower and a larger run of hogs here and at western points, there naturally was a more bearish feeling. Cash trade on the whole was not large. Considerable selling of lard and buying of short ribs at nearly 7¢ difference was on. Exports of lard and bacon for the week were 3,716,000 lbs, against 4,004,000 lbs last year. Prices follow:

GRAIN STATISTICS
United States visible supply of wheat increased 3,716,000 bu, but last week's increase was 3,011,000 bu, and oats 380,000 bu. Last year wheat increased 5,018,000 bu and oats 360,000 bu. Oats decreased 1,610,000 bu. Wheat increased 223,000 bu at New York, 419,000 bu at New Orleans, 4,000,000 bu at Duluth, and decreased 512,000 bu at Buffalo, and 270,000 bu at Kansas City. Changes in corn and oats were unimportant.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

It will be no surprise to see higher prices for corn today. The local element were free sellers late yesterday, and there was demand for offers at the last that looked as though some of the local operators were about to put the market short as said to have no protection, and should they start to cover at the opening a bulge may result. Those who knew of the order of the railroad administration to put in the individual permit system on shipments of grain to Chicago and as bull and said it meant light arrivals, especially of corn, as it will prevent loading of grain unless the shipper has a permit for them, as they will not be moved otherwise.

Chicago is being used as a dumping ground for the surplus grain in the south, especially the wheat, which is congesting the storage room. There is 18,300 bu. here, an increase of 1,400,000 bu. by last week. The individual permit system which became effective Oct. 25 will tend to curtail the marketing of corn at a time when the trade has been counting on a good increase in the run and may make it uncomfortable for those who have corn sold for December shipment from the country, as well as those who are short speculatively.

The closeness of the privileges on oats to the market last night was taken by traders as indicating that there may not be much of a movement in values either way for the present. In case of an advance in corn, oats are expected to follow, and it was suggested late last night that the trade might be in for an unexpected upturn, as arrivals, which have been light of late, might be further reduced. Traders paid no attention to the visible supply or to its showing of 3,132,000 bu. less than last year's, it being 19,121,000 bu.

Considerable opposition is reported as developing to the Edge bill, which is now before congress. The main reason is the belief that it might influence foodstuff prices upward. The congressional committee, however, is paying little attention to the complaints, and it is expected that it will be brought up in the house today.

An Omaha grain firm bid Iowa $1.21 for No. 3 corn, track Omaha, and failed to buy any, although Chicago bids were $1.21 1/4 track here. A message to Updike from Omaha said Iowa farmers were offering as high as 12 cents per bushel for corn huskers and were having great difficulty in getting men.

Local contract stock of corn in public elevators aggregate 279,000 bu, a decrease of 147,000 bu during the last week. Supplies of contract oats decreased 3,000 bu. Stocks of No. 2 white oats are 367,000 bu, and of No. 3 white 2,040,000 bu.

Large clearances of oats for export at New York are expected as soon as the dockworkers' strike is settled.

Industries were the best buyers of white and mixed corn, while shippers took the yellow at 2 1/2¢ to 3¢ over the other grades. The undertone was easy, with prices unchanged to 1/4¢ lower. No. 2 yellow closed at $1.41. Receipts, 210 cars. Offerings of oats were fair and prices unchanged to 1/4¢ higher here.

U. S. TREASURY STATEMENT

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—The following is a statement of the condition of the United States treasury on Oct. 17:

Total gold and silver coin and currency in circulation date this year.....	$8,006,864,310
United States bonds, notes and other securities receivable date last year.....	7,294,766,022
Increase over same date last year.....	$519,185,608
Outgo over income last year.....	$1,041,555,293
Decrease.....	$ 526,503,912
Balance general fund today.....	1,110,112,804
Balance previous day.....	1,174,731,291
Decrease.....	$ 649,187

This is the largest financial project undertaken by American bankers since the close of the war. Just for the purpose in financial circles to stabilize to a considerable extent the long prevailing weakness of exchange on London in this market.

The loan will yield an attractive rate of return in dollars and carry the right of conversion into a sterling bond, which contains distinct possibilities of profit based on a return to more normal conditions in the exchange market.

What will be the SYMBOLS of this new farm life?

An advertising opportunity that will never occur again

Struggling recently through one of those deep books on psychology we struck upon this thought for advertisers:

"As we form new habits of thought or living we acquire a symbol, or trade-mark, which thereafter tends to represent that habit in our lives."

Then we thought of the farms we knew twenty years ago and tried to recall the symbols of that life.

There was the Flag, of course, the Family Bible, and the picture of Abraham Lincoln.

Beyond these we could recall only one kind of symbols, those which stood for the sturdy toil of our youthful days—John Deere, for plowing, McCormick, for reaping, Old Hickory, for hauling to market.

And one other, Sloan's Liniment, "for man or beast."

There the symbols ended, for there the farm life of those days was ended.

The new farm life

Then we thought of today, and of the new farm life seen everywhere.

In the automobile, the telephone, the parcels post we saw the symbols of the farmer's release from toil and solitude.

But what of the new desires and habits this release was creating?

What of the farm boy back from war, the farm girl back from college?

As the new ideas of living and the new means of gratifying them spread among these farm families, what names, what trade-marks will become the symbols of these new habits, as the name Deere, McCormick, and Old Hickory were the symbols of the Old?

"As we form new habits," the psychologist said, "we acquire a symbol for those habits."

And so it seemed to us that here was an advertising opportunity among farm families that would never occur again.

Question

Washington, D. C., Oct. 20.—Operators and miners to differences after a four-hour conference today with Secretary Wilson may force the government to prevent the strike of a million bituminous coal miners for Nov. 1.

Although another effort made tomorrow to bring peace to the strike, the miners would close at hand and the two sides, speaking from gravel, said there was little chance of a settlement.

Must Keep Mines Open. Officials of the government made no definite statement on the course to be pursued if the strike is forced, but they referred to the action taken by the Roosevelt administration when a coal strike occurred, and miners and operators warned that the mines would be open and operated by the government with troops on guard if necessary to insure a supply of coal to the country.

If the strike does continue, Congress will take action to keep the mines open and to consider legislation to make it a crime to incite a strike in a coal field, and they believe it would be unconstitutional.

Both Sides Reticent. At the conclusion of the conference, members of both sides were extremely reticent. They refused to discuss the situation, saying there had been no change in the attitude of either group.

Informed of the attack on the senate by Senator Frelinghuysen, chairman of the committee investigating the strike, and reports from miners, strike leaders said there was a bare chance of some encouragement tomorrow, but the strike order would stand.

Secretary Wilson left the conference without giving the least indication of what was in his mind as to the settlement.

The two committees, in groups, filed into the assembly hall of the Rod Cross building and shortly before noon, while Secretary Wilson was at the ceremony, announced that they had been asked to meet and address grievances.

Plans for Settlement. Pending for immediate action of the strike, the secretaries of the two groups said the public would close industrial plants, freight and passenger traffic of the limited coal stocks held by the railroads.

President John L. Lewis, leader of the miners, The old miners' union, he declared, had expired, and he charged, had to consider a new one.

The side of the operators, headed by P. H. Penna of the United Mine Workers, who charged that the miners had violated their agreement, the operators had adhered to the and practices of collective bargaining, and that the unions were at fault. Then, without consulting the miners, the operators suggested that the miners should not be permitted to work until tomorrow, as if the conference had planned for a week.

How in the Senate. Senator Frelinghuysen, chairman of the committee investigating the strike, made a speech in the senate by 4 to 3 vote, declaring that the miners' union under its present leadership was a "new autocracy" toward the miners.

The New Jersey senator said the miners, half of whom were "inordinate" in their demands, were not to be granted, as they were, a decrease in production of 10 to 15 percent in the coal fields of the United States.

"The time has come to put an end to this new autocracy," he said. "Unless this intolerable situation can be found to prevent such unthinkable demands, unless collective bargaining can be continued in an orderly and with due regard to the welfare and comfort, a new labor law must be applied—the same law that is applied to the labor of the United States."
